Combat Veteran Heads Red Cross

Other Officers Elected for Ulster Chapter by Directors

A combat veteran of World War 2, fully familiar with the service of the American Red Cross, was elected chairman of Ulster County Chapter at Wednesday evening's meeting of the board of directors.

The new chairman is Gustav Kramer, formerly of New York and Claverack, who was wounded five times while serving with the 85th Division in Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Presently a resident at the Stuyvesant Hotel, Kramer plans building a home here for his family, and follow his profession in radio and television.

In addition to the Purple Heart with four clusters, Kramer was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and Silver Star.

Made Personal Observation

During his war experience, and hospitalization for wounds, he had a good chance to personally observe the Red Cross in action and has the highest regard for the service it gives.

After discharge from the armed forces he took an active part in Red Cross campaigns for funds in Brooklyn and Queens.

Other officers elected on recommendation of Ernest Ward, chairman for the nominating committee, were:

Edward Craig of Sprague Electric, first vice-chairman; Mrs. Walter Jeghers, second vice-chairman; Mrs. William H. Merrill, third vice-chairman; Oscar J. Lawatsch, treasurer, and Mrs. Herbert F. Schwartz, secretary.

Rowland Resigns; Mrs. Schoonmaker, Darling Are Appointees

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today announced appointment of Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker to succeed Clarence S. Rowland on the Board of Education, and the reappointment of Harold Darling to the board, both terms to become effective July 2.

The major, in a letter to Rowland, regretted the fact that he was no longer available to serve and he thanked him for his long service.

Commissioner Rowland had served on the board for 13 years and was president during the past three years. He was appointed in 1938 to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck. He was reappointed in 1941 to 1946, was off the board for three years until 1949 when he was reappointed and continued serving until this year.

Affairs of the board, Rowland said, now require considerable time, which he said he finds he no longer can give because of the

Bearsville Man Reports Onteora Annexation Misunderstood

A spokesman for Bearsville petitioners seeking annexation with the Onteora Central School denied emphatically today that the Bearsville School would be closed by such annexation.

Edmund Gilligan, Rod and Gun editor of the Herald Tribune, a resident of Bearsville, said it was not the purpose of those favoring annexation to close the school. "We are going to keep it open," he said.

A referendum will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, July 3, at the school. Voters will decide at that time for or against annexation.

'Short on Information'

Gilligan said those who charged in an article in The Freeman yesterday that the Bearsville School would be abandoned were "a little short on information."

The misunderstanding arises from "ignorance of the educational law," he said, explaining that when a district votes in favor of centralization "the taxpayers do not lose control over the local

Verdict of Guilty Given by Jury in Horowitz Trial

A city court jury after a two-day trial of Jack Horowitz of 80 Roosevelt avenue, before Judge Raymond J. Mino on a third degree assault charge, returned a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon.

The jury went out at about 4 p. m., and returned its verdict in slightly more than a half hour.

It was charged that Horowitz had assaulted Elmer Carney, of 15 Florence street, while he was in his car on Foxhall avenue near Hasbrouck avenue last May 28. Horowitz also arrested Carney on a similar charge. Carney had also arrested Alfred Horowitz of 90 Hoffman street, and the latter countered with a similar charge against Carney.

Jail Term Suspended

Judge Mino today imposed a suspended sentence of 10 days in jail against Jack Horowitz. The other charges involving Jack and Alfred Horowitz against Carney and the latter against Horowitz were dismissed.

Authorities said the assault charges followed a dispute between Carney and Jack and Alfred Horowitz, who operate the J & A Roofing and Siding Co., 394 Hasbrouck avenue, over money claimed as commission. Carney, they said, had been employed by the concern as a part-time salesman.

Attorney Charles H. Gaffney appeared for The People in the trial and Abraham Streifer for Horowitz.

Des Moines Whips Flood, Officials Say; Crest 30 Feet

All Major Dikes Holding in Iowa Capital; Visitors Hamper Workmen

Des Moines, June 24 (AP)—The raging Des Moines river roared through this city today at a historic crest of just over 30 feet—18 feet higher than its normal flow. But flood defense officials crossed their fingers and said "we think we've got it whipped."

A three-day battle, first to raise the levees and then to hold them against the pounding waters, was in its climactic hours. All major dikes were holding. No lives had been lost.

The crest was 3½ feet higher than the official peak reached in the disastrous 1947 Des Moines flood when a major levee gave way and flooded a riverside residential area.

Workers Are Hampered

Levee workers continued to be hampered by sight-seers almost as much as by the rushing waters. Last night National Guardsmen with bayonets shooed back zealous visitors who swarmed into a critical levee area near the city hall.

"They were crawling over sandbags and ripping holes in them and getting in the way of trucks," said Police Lt. Alva Glasscock. Col. Harold A. Hensler of the Iowa National Guard added:

"People were coming down here by the thousands. They thought it was a sideshow."

But top guard officials stressed there was no clash with the sightseers. "They were just quietly herded back to keep them out of the road," a guard spokesman said.

Minor Breaks Occur

Minor breaks in the miles of levee system, sand boils, and undermining occurred from time to time today. Flood officials said the situation would remain serious for some 24 hours.

The crest was of several hours duration and fluctuating fractionally around 30.1 feet. No important drop in the stream was due in Des Moines until tomorrow. A third successive day of fair weather aided the situation.

Downstream from Des Moines, the city of Ottumwa prepared for a crest of 16½ to 17 feet due there over the weekend. Ottumwa was ravaged by a 20.2 crest in 1947 but this year lack of rain in the valley below Des Moines has created an easier situation. Officials said they were ready for water up to 18 feet.

Upstream from Des Moines the river had fallen about three feet from its crest near Boone and U. S. Highway 30 there was a reopened to one-way traffic. U. S. Highway 6 at Des Moines still required re-routing due to a flooded bridge.

In Des Moines many flood evacuees already were making plans to return home within the next 24 hours.

West Europe Foreign Chiefs Will Convene on EDC Treaty

Bonn, Germany, June 24 (AP)—The foreign ministers of six western European nations probably will meet in Brussels within two weeks to discuss the future of the stalled European Defense Community (EDC) Treaty.

This was announced today by the West German government, whose officials said they welcomed the idea of such a meeting.

The officials said they viewed as urgent a final decision on EDC, which would set up a six-nation, two million-man army including German troops. Delay in putting into effect the EDC and the related allied-West German peace contract to restore German sovereignty is causing growing restlessness among West Germans, the officials added.

France and Italy have not ratified the treaty. Yesterday the foreign ministers of Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands agreed on an alternative plan for common defense in event EDC is scrapped. Details were not announced, but no direct tie-in with German troops was involved.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has called repeatedly for an end to the occupation of West Germany despite the delays over ratification of EDC. The United States has suggested this be considered in event ratification does not come soon. This is one of the subjects which will be taken up by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill at their

Conference May Be Hot, Signs Show

Eden Statement, EDC Angles Might Bring Sharp Disagreements at 2-Power Talks

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Preliminaries indicate that the Eisenhower-Churchill conference opening here tomorrow will be held in an atmosphere of sharp disagreement. Diplomats are beginning to wonder whether they will produce a real reconciliation of basic differences.

British Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden are due here before noon (EDT) tomorrow for meetings with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles which will continue through the weekend.

The ostensible purpose is to seek a closing of the gap in British-American relations. The result may be agreement on impending diplomatic moves coupled with an understanding of basic disagreements.

Here are some of the steadily developing differences:

1. Indochina—Eden told Commons yesterday he hoped it would be possible to agree to a southeast Asian defense system against aggression with a general non-aggression pact in which Communist and free nations would join, plus a straight-out free nation defensive alliance. Eden put Britain on the side of moving slowly toward an Asian alliance as a long-range means of protection.

Quick Move Hoped

U. S. officials have hoped that Churchill and Eden would agree to move quickly toward formation of a southeast Asian pact. Furthermore, there appeared to be little enthusiasm for making non-aggression treaties with the Communists on the ground that such treaties generally have no meaning.

2. European Defense Community—The United States has been talking about a revision of its policies, based for years on creation of an international army including French and German forces. Because of French inaction, American officials have thought the talks this weekend should consider alternative ways of arming West Germany outside the proposed EDC.

Word is now circulating, however, that the British—never too keen about EDC—have more interest in alternatives than the United States is ready for. American officials fear that any pressing for alternatives might endanger whatever chance still exists of getting EDC ratified by France.

Dulles Answered Germans

Dulles did assure West Germany yesterday that some consideration must be given soon to restoring her sovereignty, provided for in a peace contract which cannot become effective unless France and Italy ratify EDC.

3. Colonialism — Reports have circulated for several days that Dulles intends to make clear to the British that the United States would not hereafter feel bound to follow their lead in colonial areas

Patrol Craft Due Friday at Noon

Public May Visit Vessel Three Days From Noon to 4 P.M.

The patrol craft escort (PCE 895) scheduled for a public inspection visit here three days at the Ferry street dock, foot of Hasbrouck avenue, will arrive Friday at noon, it was announced today through the office of Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Stang said an official delegation will be at the Calso wharf to welcome the officers and crew in behalf of the city, and present the captain with a key to display in his quarters.

Visiting hours on the vessel are from noon to 4 p. m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday the mayor said, and it is hoped that many will go aboard to observe the facilities offered for naval reservists to do practical training.

The PCE will leave Kingston Monday morning.

Welcoming Party

Stanley London of this city, a supply officer for the U. S. Naval Training Center, Poughkeepsie, a lieutenant (junior grade) in the U. S. Naval Reserve, is chairman of the welcoming committee for the ship.

Among others in the welcoming group with London will be Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, U. S. Navy (retired); Bernhardt S. Kramer, city clerk, and former commander of Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Richard O. Gruver, city editor of The Freeman, and Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly, representing Mayor Stang, who

Guatemala War Mostly Diplomacy

Tegucialpa, Honduras, June 24 (AP)—The Guatemalan war entered its seventh day today with most of the fighting still apparently raging over the propaganda airwaves and in the diplomatic arena. There was no indication of a major battle shaping up anywhere.

The anti-Communist "Liberation Army" seemingly was bogged down by lack of transport just north of the Honduran border. The army of Red-backed President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman still had not made an appearance in force in the field.

There were these developments:

1. Seven persons wer reported wounded, three gravely, when Honduran police fired on a Tegucigalpa crowd watching a pro-Arbenz, anti-U. S. demonstration by students in the Honduran capital last night. Later thousands of the students and townspeople gathered to parade through the city.

Bombed Airfield

2. Honduras charged a Guatemalan airplane bombed a Honduran airfield Tuesday. The Tegucialpa government said it is protesting to the United Nations and to the organization of American States (OAS). UN sources in New York said last night the international organization had not yet received the protest, the third filed in connection with the fighting. Guatemala has entered two, one of which still is pending.

3. Guatemala promptly denied the bombing charge. Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello said in a statement "not a single Guatemalan plane has flown toward the Honduran frontier."

4. The OAS's Inter-American Peace Commission, meeting in Washington, referred to Guatemala a proposal by Honduras and Nicaragua that the five-nation body make an on-the-spot investigation of charges by the Arbenz government that the two neighboring republics supported "aggression" against Guatemala. Commission Chairman Luis Quintanilla of Mexico said he hoped the Guatemalan government would accept this "generous offer" promptly.

Guilt Is Denied

5. Nicaragua formally denied it was guilty of any aggression. In a cable to the UN, Nicaraguan Foreign Minister Oscar Sevilla Sacasa said the charges were intended to conceal the Communist affiliations of the Arbenz government.

6. A Guatemalan broadcast said President Arbenz has assured U. S. Ambassador John Peurifoy in Guatemala City the safety of U. S. citizens living in that country would be assured. There had been reports earlier that the embassy was planning to airlift out the nearly 1,200 Americans there.

The progress of the rival armies was clouded by a welter of conflicting reports, many of them obvious propaganda claims. One rebel broadcast claimed the insurgent forces led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas were moving on Guatemala city from three sides. A government broadcast said the rebels had been repulsed and were fleeing toward Honduras.

Damaged Dumps

Castillo's headquarters claimed rebel planes had damaged ammunition dumps and other strategic points in the town of El Progreso, 35 miles northeast of the capital and also on the Puerto Barrios-Guatemala city railroad. Rebel spokesmen also claimed saboteurs were moving ahead of their forces, causing serious damage with dynamite blasts.

But government broadcasts heard in El Salvador claimed the "enemy" had been hurled back on all fronts and was fleeing toward the Honduran border in the Gualan, Morales and Puerto Barrios areas. They said loyal troops had begun mopping up scattered rebel groups that surrendered without resistance.

In Guatemala city, Associated Press Correspondent Jack Rutledge described the situation as calm. He said the army still claimed the government held complete control.

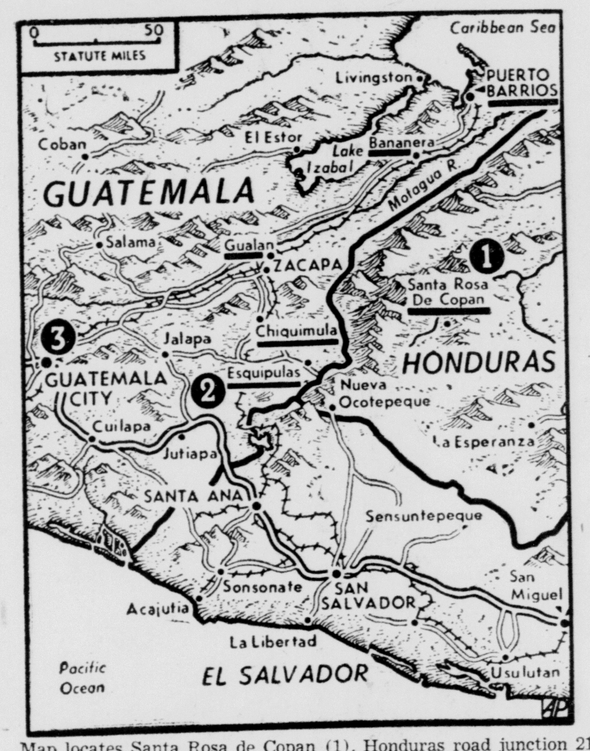
Killed at Grand Gorge

Grand Gorge, June 24 (AP)—Richard Brownell, 20, was killed last night when an automobile in which he was riding overturned on Route 23 near here.

Draft Call Issued

Washington, June 24 (AP)—The army today issued a draft call for 23,000 men in August—the same number as for July.

Central American Hot Spots



Map locates Santa Rosa de Copan (1), Honduras road junction 21 miles from Guatemala border, where the Honduran government has recently said mystery planes have dropped bombs. Inside Guatemala, rebel anti-government forces established headquarters at Esquipluas (2), and Guatemala City (3) reported that a rebel plane had strafed parts of the capital. A government spokesman reported victories June 22 over the rebels at Gualan and Chiquimula and a counterattack at Puerto Barrios (all underlined). Rebels claimed victories near Zacapa and private sources said Bananera was in rebel hands. (AP Wirephoto map).

Thruway Section Opened to Tolls

Criticizes Democrats' View of Expressway; Ride Taken on Route

Enroute with Dewey on thruway, June 24 (AP)—Gov. Dewey snipped a ribbon in a thruway toll-opening ceremony today and scoffed at Democratic criticism of the cross-state expressway.

"Everytime the thruway program has been before the Legislature the representatives of Tammany Hall voted unanimously against it," Dewey told 3,000 persons at Lowell in launching a day of ceremonies along a 115-mile thruway stretch.

The governor said the Democrats "called it Dewey's upstate boulevard, and I'm proud of it. It's astonishing how the world changes and politics never does."

Heads Caravan

After his Lowell talk, Dewey, in a limousine, headed a caravan of 500 vehicles over the route, the first stretch of the projected New York-Buffalo superhighway to be opened to toll traffic.

Toll traffic over the strip, which ends on Route 15 south of Rochester, will begin officially tonight when the governor presses a button in Rochester.

The crowd began gathering at Lowell early this morning, and

Economist, 73, Is Found Beaten, Garroted in Apartment

New York, June 24 (AP)—Forty detectives scoured Greenwich Village for clues today in the bizarre slaying of economist Edwin Whitmarsh, a man whose kindness may have led to his death.

The 73-year-old Whitmarsh was found garroted and beaten to death last night in his apartment at 25 E. 10th street. His fully clothed body lay face down on a bed in the eighth floor apartment.

Police this morning termed the case "still wide open" and it was learned that they were working on the theory that Whitmarsh was slain by someone whom he had befriended.

One man sought for questioning was located and released after interrogation by officers. He formerly shared an apartment with Whitmarsh.

Masseur Not Located

Another, a masseur who treated Whitmarsh frequently, was not located immediately.

Police said they had been unsuccessful in trying to trace Whitmarsh's movements between yesterday morning and the time he was slain, which was believed about 2 p. m.

His body was found by a couple with whom he made his home.

'Rolling Garage' Service Will Assist Stalled Motorists

Albany, June 24 (AP)—If your automobile runs out of gas or breaks down on the New York State Thruway, just be patient. The rolling garage should be along shortly.

By the time most of the 427-mile superhighway is completed next year, the Thruway Authority expects to have more than 20 emergency repair trucks patrolling the strip 24 hours a day.

These mechanized repair shops will be equipped with two-way radios connecting them with their home garages and the Thruway communications system.

So while you stand beside your steaming radiator cursing your fate, take comfort in the knowledge that at that very minute there's probably a mobile repair unit headed your way or that a state trooper or Thruway official soon will pass and radio for help.

Three of the traveling troubleshooters go into service with the opening of the first 115-mile stretch of the expressway to toll traffic today.

Are Let to Garages

Contracts to provide the rolling repair service are being let to garages situated near interchanges. The repair vans can charge no more than the prevailing rates at Thruway service stations or garages in the area.

The minimum repair charge will be $1—the price for fixing a flat. The maximum will be $5 plus 50 cents for every mile the truck must travel to the point of breakdown.

As for towing, the charge will be fixed—a minimum of $3 for up to six miles, 50 cents for each additional mile, and a maximum of $10 from the point of breakdown to the garage of the nearest patrol contractor.

French, Red Conference Is Arranged

Chauvel Meets Van Dong Under Instructions From Mendes-France; Goes to New Delhi

Geneva, June 24 (AP) — The French have started secret talks with Vietminh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong. An informed source said today chances of settling the Indochina war now seem "reasonably good."

The direct talks between the two warring elements were arranged at Geneva by a third party, this source said. He made the hopeful estimate on the basis, also, of yesterday's parley between French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai in Bern.

Chou took off this morning for New Delhi and a meeting with Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He intimated he would return to Geneva to complete the Indochinese peace talks. Chou and Mendes-France expressed belief jointly yesterday that their meeting will permit the Geneva Conference "to make progress."

Met With Dong

Jean Chauvel, French Ambassador to Bern and now head of his country's delegation to the Geneva parley, met with Dong on instructions from Mendes-France.

The rebel politician's reaction to what Chauvel had to tell him, it was reported, was less encouraging than Chou's attitude at the meeting with Mendes-France. The information here was:

Chauvel told Dong that, while France is anxious to end the war, there are limits beyond which she cannot go in arranging a settlement. Dong gave the French the impression they might have to make considerable concessions. Britain and the United States were furnished accounts of the talks.

Session Is Postponed

Today's closed session on Indochina was postponed until tomorrow.

Talks between the military representatives of the French-Laotian command on one side and the Vietminh of the other were reported ready to begin.

Chou left Geneva in a special Indian plane.

Intimating he would return to the Geneva parley, Chou in a brief farewell statement said he was leaving "for the time being."

The conference, he added, is "still in progress" and the world's "peace-loving peoples hope our work will lead to the eventual establishment of peace in Indochina."

Chou made no mention of his two-hour meeting in Bern yesterday with France's new premier-foreign minister, Pierre Mendes-France. But both men after their talks issued brief statements saying they believed the delegates at Geneva would make progress toward an armistice as a result of their meeting.

To Stay 3 Days

Chou is due in New Delhi tomorrow, to remain three days.

Mendes-France returned to Paris last night, to present his cabinet today to the National Assembly for its approval. On his arrival in the French capital, he told reporters: "We can be optimistic about the approaching development of the Geneva conference."

Neither French nor Chinese sources gave any indication of what the two premiers said to each other.

The nine delegations at Geneva were to resume their secret general sessions this afternoon. They have been deadlocked over Communist demands for a veto on any commission set up to supervise an Indochina armistice.

Mendes-France, in winning National Assembly approval last week of his premiership, promised to obtain a peace agreement for Indochina by July 20 or resign. He said France would agree to an armistice only on "honorable" terms.

Quick Move Hoped

U. S. officials have hoped that Churchill and Eden would agree to move quickly toward formation of a southeast Asian pact. Furthermore, there appeared to be little enthusiasm for making non-aggression treaties with the Communists on the ground that such treaties generally have no meaning.

2. European Defense Community—The United States has been talking about a revision of its policies, based for years on creation of an international army including French and German forces. Because of French inaction, American officials have thought the talks this weekend should consider alternative ways of arming West Germany outside the proposed EDC.

Word is now circulating, however, that the British—never too keen about EDC—have more interest in alternatives than the United States is ready for. American officials fear that any pressing for alternatives might endanger whatever chance still exists of getting EDC ratified by France.

Dulles Answered Germans

Dulles did assure West Germany yesterday that some consideration must be given soon to restoring her sovereignty, provided for in a peace contract which cannot become effective unless France and Italy ratify EDC.

3. Colonialism — Reports have circulated for several days that Dulles intends to make clear to the British that the United States would not hereafter feel bound to follow their lead in colonial areas

Patrol Craft Due Friday at Noon

Public May Visit Vessel Three Days From Noon to 4 P.M.

The patrol craft escort (PCE 895) scheduled for a public inspection visit here three days at the Ferry street dock, foot of Hasbrouck avenue, will arrive Friday at noon, it was announced today through the office of Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Stang said an official delegation will be at the Calso wharf to welcome the officers and crew in behalf of the city, and present the captain with a key to display in his quarters.

Visiting hours on the vessel are from noon to 4 p. m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday the mayor said, and it is hoped that many will go aboard to observe the facilities offered for naval reservists to do practical training.

The PCE will leave Kingston Monday morning.

Welcoming Party

Stanley London of this city, a supply officer for the U. S. Naval Training Center, Poughkeepsie, a lieutenant (junior grade) in the U. S. Naval Reserve, is chairman of the welcoming committee for the ship.

Among others in the welcoming group with London will be Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, U. S. Navy (retired); Bernhardt S. Kramer, city clerk, and former commander of Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Richard O. Gruver, city editor of The Freeman, and Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly, representing Mayor Stang, who

Guatemala War Mostly Diplomacy

Tegucialpa, Honduras, June 24 (AP)—The Guatemalan war entered its seventh day today with most of the fighting still apparently raging over the propaganda airwaves and in the diplomatic arena. There was no indication of a major battle shaping up anywhere.

The anti-Communist "Liberation Army" seemingly was bogged down by lack of transport just north of the Honduran border. The army of Red-backed President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman still had not made an appearance in force in the field.

There were these developments:

1. Seven persons wer reported wounded, three gravely, when Honduran police fired on a Tegucigalpa crowd watching a pro-Arbenz, anti-U. S. demonstration by students in the Honduran capital last night. Later thousands of the students and townspeople gathered to parade through the city.

Bombed Airfield

2. Honduras charged a Guatemalan airplane bombed a Honduran airfield Tuesday. The Tegucialpa government said it is protesting to the United Nations and to the organization of American States (OAS). UN sources in New York said last night the international organization had not yet received the protest, the third filed in connection with the fighting. Guatemala has entered two, one of which still is pending.

3. Guatemala promptly denied the bombing charge. Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello said in a statement "not a single Guatemalan plane has flown toward the Honduran frontier."

4. The OAS's Inter-American Peace Commission, meeting in Washington, referred to Guatemala a proposal by Honduras and Nicaragua that the five-nation body make an on-the-spot investigation of charges by the Arbenz government that the two neighboring republics supported "aggression" against Guatemala. Commission Chairman Luis Quintanilla of Mexico said he hoped the Guatemalan government would accept this "generous offer" promptly.

Guilt Is Denied

5. Nicaragua formally denied it was guilty of any aggression. In a cable to the UN, Nicaraguan Foreign Minister Oscar Sevilla Sacasa said the charges were intended to conceal the Communist affiliations of the Arbenz government.

6. A Guatemalan broadcast said President Arbenz has assured U. S. Ambassador John Peurifoy in Guatemala City the safety of U. S. citizens living in that country would be assured. There had been reports earlier that the embassy was planning to airlift out the nearly 1,200 Americans there.

The progress of the rival armies was clouded by a welter of conflicting reports, many of them obvious propaganda claims. One rebel broadcast claimed the insurgent forces led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas were moving on Guatemala city from three sides. A government broadcast said the rebels had been repulsed and were fleeing toward Honduras.

Damaged Dumps

Castillo's headquarters claimed rebel planes had damaged ammunition dumps and other strategic points in the town of El Progreso, 35 miles northeast of the capital and also on the Puerto Barrios-Guatemala city railroad. Rebel spokesmen also claimed saboteurs were moving ahead of their forces, causing serious damage with dynamite blasts.

But government broadcasts heard in El Salvador claimed the "enemy" had been hurled back on all fronts and was fleeing toward the Honduran border in the Gualan, Morales and Puerto Barrios areas. They said loyal troops had begun mopping up scattered rebel groups that surrendered without resistance.

In Guatemala city, Associated Press Correspondent Jack Rutledge described the situation as calm. He said the army still claimed the government held complete control.

Killed at Grand Gorge

Grand Gorge, June 24 (AP)—Richard Brownell, 20, was killed last night when an automobile in which he was riding overturned on Route 23 near here.

Draft Call Issued

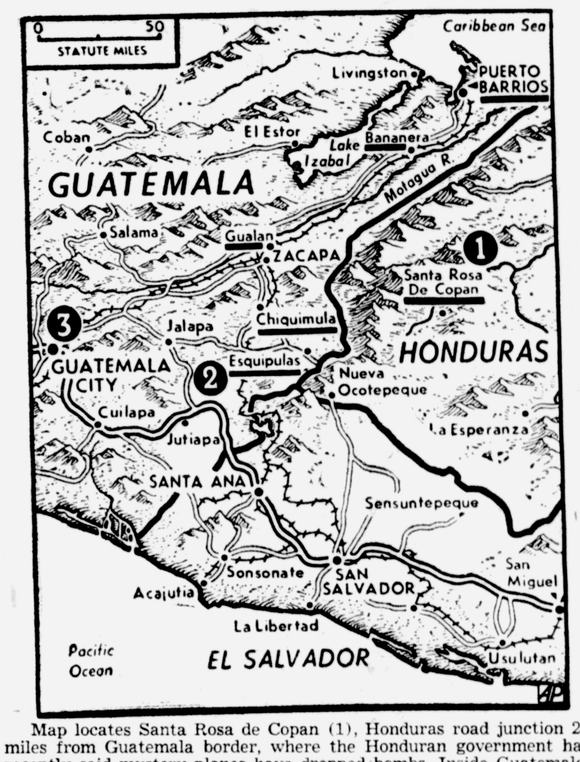
Central American Hot Spots



Map locates Santa Rosa de Copan (1), Honduras road junction 21 miles from Guatemala border, where the Honduran government has recently said mystery planes have dropped bombs. Inside Guatemala, rebel anti-government forces established headquarters at Esquipluas (2), and Guatemala City (3) reported that a rebel plane had strafed parts of the capital. A government spokesman reported victories June 22 over the rebels at Gualan and Chiquimula and a counterattack at Puerto Barrios (all underlined). Rebels claimed victories near Zacapa and private sources said Bananera was in rebel hands. (AP Wirephoto map).

Thruway Section Opened to Tolls

Criticizes Democrats' View of Expressway; Ride Taken on Route

Enroute with Dewey on thruway, June 24 (AP)—Gov. Dewey snipped a ribbon in a thruway toll-opening ceremony today and scoffed at Democratic criticism of the cross-state expressway.

"Everytime the thruway program has been before the Legislature the representatives of Tammany Hall voted unanimously against it," Dewey told 3,000 persons at Lowell in launching a day of ceremonies along a 115-mile thruway stretch.

The governor said the Democrats "called it Dewey's upstate boulevard, and I'm proud of it. It's astonishing how the world changes and politics never does."

Heads Caravan

After his Lowell talk, Dewey, in a limousine, headed a caravan of 500 vehicles over the route, the first stretch of the projected New York-Buffalo superhighway to be opened to toll traffic.

Toll traffic over the strip, which ends on Route 15 south of Rochester, will begin officially tonight when the governor presses a button in Rochester.

The crowd began gathering at Lowell early this morning, and

Economist, 73, Is Found Beaten, Garroted in Apartment

New York, June 24 (AP)—Forty detectives scoured Greenwich Village for clues today in the bizarre slaying of economist Edwin Whitmarsh, a man whose kindness may have led to his death.

The 73-year-old Whitmarsh was found garroted and beaten to death last night in his apartment at 25 E. 10th street. His fully clothed body lay face down on a bed in the eighth floor apartment.

Police this morning termed the case "still wide open" and it was learned that they were working on the theory that Whitmarsh was slain by someone whom he had befriended.

One man sought for questioning was located and released after interrogation by officers. He formerly shared an apartment with Whitmarsh.

Masseur Not Located

Another, a masseur who treated Whitmarsh frequently, was not located immediately.

Police said they had been unsuccessful in trying to trace Whitmarsh's movements between yesterday morning and the time he was slain, which was believed about 2 p. m.

His body was found by a couple with whom he made his home.

'Rolling Garage' Service Will Assist Stalled Motorists

Albany, June 24 (AP)—If your automobile runs out of gas or breaks down on the New York State Thruway, just be patient. The rolling garage should be along shortly.

By the time most of the 427-mile superhighway is completed next year, the Thruway Authority expects to have more than 20 emergency repair trucks patrolling the strip 24 hours a day.

These mechanized repair shops will be equipped with two-way radios connecting them with their home garages and the Thruway communications system.

So while you stand beside your steaming radiator cursing your fate, take comfort in the knowledge that at that very minute there's probably a mobile repair unit headed your way or that a state trooper or Thruway official soon will pass and radio for help.

Three of the traveling troubleshooters go into service with the opening of the first 115-mile stretch of the expressway to toll traffic today.

Are Let to Garages

Contracts to provide the rolling repair service are being let to garages situated near interchanges. The repair vans can charge no more than the prevailing rates at Thruway service stations or garages in the area.

The minimum repair charge will be $1—the price for fixing a flat. The maximum will be $5 plus 50 cents for every mile the truck must travel to the point of breakdown.

As for towing, the charge will be fixed—a minimum of $3 for up to six miles, 50 cents for each additional mile, and a maximum of $10 from the point of breakdown to the garage of the nearest patrol contractor.

French, Red Conference Is Arranged

Chauvel Meets Van Dong Under Instructions From Mendes-France; Goes to New Delhi

Geneva, June 24 (AP) — The French have started secret talks with Vietminh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong. An informed source said today chances of settling the Indochina war now seem "reasonably good."

The direct talks between the two warring elements were arranged at Geneva by a third party, this source said. He made the hopeful estimate on the basis, also, of yesterday's parley between French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai in Bern.

Chou took off this morning for New Delhi and a meeting with Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He intimated he would return to Geneva to complete the Indochinese peace talks. Chou and Mendes-France expressed belief jointly yesterday that their meeting will permit the Geneva Conference "to make progress."

Met With Dong

Jean Chauvel, French Ambassador to Bern and now head of his country's delegation to the Geneva parley, met with Dong on instructions from Mendes-France.

The rebel politician's reaction to what Chauvel had to tell him, it was reported, was less encouraging than Chou's attitude at the meeting with Mendes-France. The information here was:

Chauvel told Dong that, while France is anxious to end the war, there are limits beyond which she cannot go in arranging a settlement. Dong gave the French the impression they might have to make considerable concessions. Britain and the United States were furnished accounts of the talks.

Session Is Postponed

Today's closed session on Indochina was postponed until tomorrow.

Talks between the military representatives of the French-Laotian command on one side and the Vietminh of the other were reported ready to begin.

Chou left Geneva in a special Indian plane.

Intimating he would return to the Geneva parley, Chou in a brief farewell statement said he was leaving "for the time being."

The conference, he added, is "still in progress" and the world's "peace-loving peoples hope our work will lead to the eventual establishment of peace in Indochina."

Chou made no mention of his two-hour meeting in Bern yesterday with France's new premier-foreign minister, Pierre Mendes-France. But both men after their talks issued brief statements saying they believed the delegates at Geneva would make progress toward an armistice as a result of their meeting.

To Stay 3 Days

Chou is due in New Delhi tomorrow, to remain three days.

Mendes-France returned to Paris last night, to present his cabinet today to the National Assembly for its approval. On his arrival in the French capital, he told reporters: "We can be optimistic about the approaching development of the Geneva conference."

Neither French nor Chinese sources gave any indication of what the two premiers said to each other.

The nine delegations at Geneva were to resume their secret general sessions this afternoon. They have been deadlocked over Communist demands for a veto on any commission set up to supervise an Indochina armistice.

Mendes-France, in winning National Assembly approval last week of his premiership, promised to obtain a peace agreement for Indochina by July 20 or resign. He said France would agree to an armistice only on "honorable" terms.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Prime ribs of beef and some cuts of pork will be among the better buys this weekend in the nation's food stores. You'll also find many vegetables at moderate prices.

Stores featuring prime ribs plan to cut prices as much as six to eight cents a pound. Other beef specials mentioned by a number of markets include sirloin and round steak, chuck roast, boneless chuck pot roast and ground beef.

Pork prices have come down a bit at wholesale lately, so you may find cheaper pork chops in your store. One chain reports that it will trim prices around four to eight cents a pound. Some meat specialists consider loin of pork a worthwhile buy, too.

Pork Supplies Larger

The word from the government is that supplies of pork in butcher shops next fall and winter will be about 13 per cent larger than a year earlier. And that will mean a reduction in prices. Pork has been selling at high prices in relation to beef during the past year or so because pig production has been low.

Other weekend specials planned by a number of stores include veal shoulder roast, leg of lamb, fryers and stewing chickens.

There will be little change in butter prices from a week ago, but stores in many areas will raise egg prices by two to three cents a dozen.

Produce men say there are lots of vegetable bargains this week, with cabbage, lettuce, beets and green beans at the top of the list. Also described as good buys are celery, beans, eggplant, green onions, peas, parsley, radishes, potatoes, onions and tomatoes.

Going higher on the wholesale markets this week were cantaloupes, peppers and sweet potatoes. Cantaloupes continue to be a favorite feature in retail outlets, however.

Watermelons Plentiful

Watermelons are plentiful, and reports from country shipping points say that large quantities are moving out for the Fourth of July weekend.

An increasing variety of fruits is becoming available, but items such as grapes, cherries, apricots, nectarines and figs are still rather high in price. Among the better buys, produce men say, are strawberries, peaches, plums and limes.

Something new arrived in eastern markets this week from California — olalie berries. They're somewhat similar to the blackberry, but larger and longer.

On the Department of Agriculture's list of food buys this week are milk and other dairy products and tomatoes. The tomato's stock of vitamins A and C is "potent reason for using quantities of this fruit," say the USDA.

Dead Man's Hand

London, Ky. (AP) — Three men were arrested for playing poker on cemetery hill nad charged with gambling. Police Chief Joe Noe said the top of the hill was "a pleasant place, surrounded by big shade trees, and the slick ground gave evidence the site was a favorite side for card playing."

Too Many Reporters

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Methodist churchman and one of six presidents of the World Council of Churches, looks for trouble with the press when the Council stages its assembly at Evanston, Ill., in August. "We have requests for working space for 1,200 reporters and seats for only 300," he said.

Perilous Sleep

Detroit (AP)—Fatigue and sleepiness are among the most dangerous problems faced by motorists says L. M. van Noppen, auto finance company official. Most drivers try to travel too far in a day he says. "If you get sleepy while driving, pull off the road and go to sleep. If you doze off on the highway, you probably never will wake up," he adds.

He's Mr. U. S. A.

Baker, Ill. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Armstrong are among the few in the nation with the initials of U.S.A. Armstrong, 85, says: "My father was Don Armstrong and he was a great admirer of Gen. U. S. Grant. But while I have the same first name as the general and late president — Ulysses — my middle name is not Simpson, as his was. It is Stinson, so the full name is Ulysses Stinson Armstrong."

Pedals the Mail

Larkspur, Calif. (AP)—Postman Roy Hannick, 25, makes his seven-mile route on a gear-shift bicycle he equipped with a sidecar. Postmaster Manly Bystrom says the sidecar saves time by carrying as much mail as three postmen could deliver on foot.

Fitzgeralds Return From New Zealand

Sgt. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, both of this city, with their children, Edward, aged seven and a half, and Betty Jo, aged 17 months, are visiting in Kingston after three-and-a-half years in New Zealand. (Freeman photo)

Variety in Hunting, Fishing Available Says Army Attache

By MARIANNE DAVIS

"New Zealand is a paradise for sportsmen," says Sgt. Edward Fitzgerald of this city, who with his wife and two children recently returned here after three and a half years on the southern islands. "The average American tourist who's looking for deluxe accommodations might be disappointed, but anyone who likes roughing it would certainly enjoy the hunting and fishing."

Interviewed at the home of Mrs. Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Benjamin Durr, on Esopus avenue, the newly returned Army attache explained that there's no law covering a deer season, that wild pig hunting is great sport. For fishermen, he says that trout jump out of the water faster than a line can be thrown to them, some natives catching the speckled beauties by tickling them. Deep sea fishing for marlin and shark alternates with yachting and swimming for water sports.

"It's winter down there now," explained attractive Mrs. Fitzgerald, "with skiing and mountaineering popular." Her husband added that Sir Edmund Hillary of Mt. Everest conquest fame, is a native New Zealander.

Cold Soda Treat for Youngsters

Are they glad to be back in the United States once more? "Yes," said Mrs. Fitzgerald, "even though it's fun to learn about another country. But so much has changed here in the time we've been away. We're both amazed at the traffic on Albany avenue, and the fast pace of life up here."

It seems that in New Zealand, all daily activity ceases at 6 o'clock in the evening, with only an occasional motion picture or visiting friends to occupy an evening. "We're fascinated by TV. It was just on small sets when we left," Mrs. Fitzgerald said.

The two youngsters are interested in sampling cold sodas, a treat they didn't enjoy "down under" since iced drinks are unknown. Edward, a bright seven and a half, went to kindergarten and grade school, coming back with a decided accent to confuse his grandmother. Betty Jo, aged 17 months, nicknamed a "Kiwi" for the native island bird, since she was born in New Zealand.

Socialized Medicine Successful

Edward's school was one of many small buildings each in a separate section of the city, Wellington, where they lived. "Limited equipment, not like the huge classrooms in our modern schools," according to Sgt. Fitzgerald," and very well organized sports are characteristic of the system."

High praise for the system of socialized medicine as carried out among the two million population came from both parents. "There are good doctors, and everyone gets enough medical attention. The physicians have as many patients as they can possibly handle," explained the sergeant. Your own choice of doctors, and a simplified way of getting a percentage of payment returned are features of the plan there.

The other face of New Zealand is the tattooed one of the Maori people, who have become very westernized, so that no "typical Maori villages" are to be seen. Beautifully polished pieces of native wood fashioned into boxes and ash trays bearing the typical native designs, are attractive souvenirs brought back by the couple. Betty Jo was fascinated with a Maori doll in native dress, and showed it proudly to Milton Wagenfohr, Freeman photographer.

Housewives Shop Daily

Houses built high on hills, which abound on the islands, are not a householder's joy, with usually at least 150 steps to the door from the street. The Fitzgerald's most recent home overlooked the harbor, a view making the climb worthwhile.

With refrigerators and freezing units non-existent there, grocery shopping was a daily chore. "The meats and vegetables are in separate shops," explained Mrs. Fitzgerald," so that it's a treat for me to go to the supermarkets here and get everything in one trip." New Zealand shoppers carry baskets, since paper bags are never used.

Baking cakes and cookies is a pastime with New Zealand housewives, for all the entertaining at one another's homes. Did Mrs. Fitzgerald follow this practice? "Well, mostly, but sometimes I bought some pastries at a shop," and she laughed, "and no one knew the difference."

New Zealanders space their breakfast, lunch and supper with three "teas" a day, the last at 10 p. m. Even the movies, which incidentally, also have cinemascope, "break" for the tea-supper at that late hour. The thick coffee always served with cream, is a little too rich to suit the Fitzgerald's, who preferred the tea.

Will Be Re-Assigned

The Fitzgeralds, friendly, well-informed travelers, are enjoying this vacation between assignments. Sgt. Fitzgerald, whose military career started here in Kingston as a member of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, will spend some time next month in Washington before going to his next post, "which is unknown just yet."

Right now, though, they're busy describing the towering, rugged Southern Alps, the vast thermal regions with geysers and mud pools, and vital questions about the comparison of the "cost of living," similar to here, in the land they just left, to their many friends in Ulster county.

Operation Successful

Lusk, Wyo. (AP)—Ralph Bonner, 15, performed a Caesarian operation and all three babies have survived. Ralph shot a jackrabbit and performed the operation with his pocket knife. He has nursed the little bunnies with a medicine dropper.

PTA Has Home

Chicago (AP)—For the first time in the 57 years of its existence, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, with eight million members throughout the United States in 39,000 local chapters, has occupied its own building.

IKE'S LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

President Eisenhower is understandably concerned with the fate of his legislative program. He is a constructive-minded man, and he wants positive accomplishments to take to the voters this fall.

Every day that goes by without expeditious action makes it more likely that some items in the program will fall away in the final reckoning. Congressional leaders now talk of adjourning the 83rd Congress on July 31. Even if it should stretch out to August 15, the pressure of appropriations bills will tend to crowd out some measures.

The most important domestic measures are in the field of housing, social security extension, farm supports and tax revision.

The big tax reform bill seems sure of passage, as does widening of social security. Controversy over public housing features, however, may produce a final proposal much weaker than the President seeks.

Mr. Eisenhower's wish for a flexible farm price support system could produce a bitter floor struggle. The House Agriculture Committee already has approved continuance of high rigid supports. Should the full House or Senate or both follow this course, and the President veto the proposal, much time might be consumed on the question whether to override his veto.

The President already has given up the fight for 1954 on his liberal foreign trade program. He is settling for a one-year extension of the existing Reciprocal Trade Act, and should get it without much trouble. The House has passed the bill, and the Senate can be expected to go along.

The size of foreign aid to Europe and Asia is alway a matter for some debate, but with luck Congress might get through this one without too much lost time.

Mr. Eisenhower has lost out on revision of the Taft-Hartley, on important foreign trade changes, apparently on statehood for Hawaii (fatally linked with Alaska by the Senate), apparently on much of his housing demands. He will get less than he wants on health measures and certain other welfare proposals.

What happens to his farm plans may do a lot to give the final coloring to his 1953-54 record of legislative accomplishment.

Let us suppose the worst, that he gets no more than now seems likely, that he loses on the farm issue.

Will this really determine the fate of the Republican Party at the polls next November?

One may quickly acknowledge that the legislative story will play a role in voters' decisions, without agreeing that it will make the whole case for or against, or even the biggest part.

The people judge a party, and their President, as governing instruments. What Congress achieves in a particular two-year period could be a minor element in the story. They may be much more affected by the way a government executes foreign policy, plans defense, controls internal subversion.

Mr. Eisenhower is wise to stress constructive legislative acts. But he and his party will be weighed in a context far wider than the boundaries of Capitol Hill.

TEXAS MAVERICK

A New Dealer in public life seems to be a rare commodity in Texas. The late Maury Maverick, twice congressman in the '30's and later mayor of San Antonio, was one. These offices constituted his entire elective career, though in World War II he headed the Smaller War Plants Corporation.

He was active for Stevenson in 1952 when most Texas politicians were either for Eisenhower or kept quiet. If the Democrats returned to power in the near future, Maverick's record for party loyalty would have made him a probable selection for an important post.

His son, Maury Maverick, Jr., has got as far up the political ladder as the Texas House of Representatives. If he shares his father's views and the present Texas political climate changes, he may be heard from.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ISOTOPES

John Jay Hopkins, President of General Dynamics Corporation, whose company manufactures submarines, recently made this startling statement:

"So great is the expansion of uses of radioactivity in the field of medicine, it is estimated that already the lives of more people have been saved by the atom than were lost in the Hiroshima and Nagasaki explosions!"

It is an important statement about a subject of which most of us are ignorant. I know that when my dog, Brownie, was dying of cancer, I discussed some of the new drugs with authorities and discovered a few that had been tried on humans with some measure of success, but they had not been tried on dogs. The experts in this field are very conservative because they still know so little about what they have discovered.

One story I came across in this investigation is particularly interesting. It was found in a part of England that the cattle reached a certain age, became ill and died. A vast experiment was undertaken to discover the cause. Half the cattle were taken elsewhere and they thrived, but the cattle that remained in their home meadows sickened. Again they were divided into two lots and those who were removed got well and flourished. After thorough study it was found to be a soil and plant problem; that in the home meadows there was a total lack of cobalt in the soil.

When it comes to such a subject as soil chemistry, I fear that my knowledge is so weak that I may not even repeat correctly what I hear, but it seems to be my recollection that the entire plant life of these meadows was changed and thereafter the cattle in the home meadows flourished. Maybe some day the scientists may discover that the chemical unbalance in our foods may be responsible for some of these troubles.

Hopkins reports:

"Through the use of radioactive phosphorous—which checks the over-production of red blood cells in the bone marrow—the lives of sufferers from leukemia have been prolonged. One of our most famous ethical laboratories is offering radioactive iodine in capsule form for the treatment of thyroid disorders without the need of hospitalization or elaborate controls."

I do not know quite how far this has gone and those who do know are extremely conservative in their statements. But an entire new field is being opened up as a result of the use of rare earths and of the isotopes of atomic fission which may change the entire field of medical treatment, particularly as regards the various forms of cancer.

If three problems of our health can be solved, enormous numbers of lives can be saved. These are the various heart ailments, the cancers, and the disturbances of the pancreas. Most of these ailments catch us unawares and lay us low without much of a fighting chance, although so much is being done by the physician and the chemist as to give us great hope for the future.

The two major illnesses of the pancreas are diabetes, in which insulin is discharged too niggardly, and hyperinsulinism in which the hormone is discharged too generously. Of the two, hyperinsulinism is the more difficult to handle and while it does not produce shocks and comas, it does leave the sufferer without energy and often in a state of extreme nervousness. It may be assumed correctly that most alcoholics suffer from hyperinsulinism which literally drives them to drink. Insulin can be administered for diabetes but not for hyperinsulinism which is detected by glucose tolerance tests. It is a tough illness to have.

John Jay Hopkins gives some evidence of the movement of isotopes in the curative field when he notes:

". . . while the largest single employer of isotopic materials is industry, the second largest application is in the field of medicine. Some perspective on our progress in the last few years may be gained from the figures on shipment of radioactive isotopes. In 1946 there were a total of 246 shipments, in 1953 there were 10,676. Other nations, particularly Canada, are also large producers."

It may be that the progress made in these fields will not only add years to our lives but will free us from some of the most unpleasant effects of living too long, of pains and aches and fears which remove from old age the joy of living.

That Body of Yours

PERENNIAL RHINITIS—SNUFFY NOSE

As youngsters we remember the large number of cases of "running noses" and how so many children used to come to school day after day and week after week with this same condition. It was usually called just a "cold" but nothing seemed to be done about it. Today this condition of a runny or running nose is called rhinitis—inflammation of the nose that causes running—and because it appears at all times it is called perennial — lasting through the year.

Now it is considered one of the most important upper respiratory disturbances but many patients with mild forms never consult a physician. It is a forerunner in about 50 per cent of the cases of asthma. Many of these cases will not seek medical aid until they wheeze or have sinus trouble or a stuffed nose from polyps.

The most frequent symptoms are attacks of itching of the nose, sneezing and runny or stuffy nose; they may last for a few minutes or several hours. Some patients feel as if they have a cold all the time.

These attacks may be brought on by inhalants such as insect sprays, paints, varnishes, oils, perfumes, occupational dusts and odors, fumes and smokes. Foods often responsible, because of allergy, are cereals, nuts, chocolate, fish, fruits, milk, eggs, spices, vegetables, alcohol, beer and soft drinks. Almost any drug taken by mouth may cause symptoms in some people. The lining of the allergic nose becomes impaired and boggy.

It is felt that even the mildest case of perennial rhinitis should be investigated. The ideal goal is to avoid all the offending substances but this is very difficult to do and often desensitization becomes necessary. This is done by injecting small doses of the offending substance to build a resistance against it. Nasal polyps and sinus disease should be treated. Certain vaccines, X-ray treatments, various drugs, including cortisone, also help many cases. An attempt should be made to solve any emotional problem which may be present. Various measures may be used to reduce the swelling in the lining of the nose but these bring temporary relief only and do not solve the problem of the real cause.

The above seem a truly formidable list of treatments but we should remember that as this common snuffy nose, lasting all through the year, may be the forerunner of diseases such as asthma, it should be treated as thoroughly as possible.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA)—Richard Harkness, NBC commentator, got a telephone call from an irate woman listener the other evening.

He had just finished a broadcast in which he had said that Senator McCarthy might be doing a disserve to the Eisenhower administration if he did not report immediately to Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles or FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover any knowledge he might have about Communists in the government.

The woman listener said she disagreed, and that Senator McCarthy should not turn over the names.

Harkness started to reason with her. "Look!" he said. "You don't think Allen Dulles would keep any known Communists in CIA, do you?"

"I certainly do," she said.

Patiently, Harkness tried again. "You don't think President Eisenhower would keep any Communists working for him, do you?" he asked. "The President would fire them immediately," he assured her.

And then, to Mr. Harkness' burning ears there came back the reply, "Not if they were Republican Communists."

ARMY PRIVATE G. David Schine and Atomic Scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer both use the same amount of space to list their accomplishments and biographical data in "Who's Who" — 19 lines.

Dr. Oppenheimer's sketch says simply: "Director, laboratory, Los Alamos, N. M., that perfected the atomic bomb, 1943-45 . . . chmn. gen. adv. com. AEC, 1947-53." He leaves out the fact that he was awarded the U. S. Medal for Merit for that work.

Private Schine lists his principal accomplishments as: "Advisor spl. asst. atty. gen. U. S. in charge subversive activities, 1952, assisted investigation Communist infiltration into UN; chief cons. Senate Permanent Subcom. on Investigations, Com. on Govt. Operations, since January, 1953."

Fifty Netherlanders, refugees from last year's disastrous floods, are scheduled to arrive in New York June 25. This will be the first sizable group of European refugees to come to America under the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, signed last August.

The program calls for admission to the U. S. of 209,000 refugees before Dec. 31, 1956. To date only 53 refugees have actually arrived in this country under the new law.

The program got away to a slow start because of the necessity for issuing new regulations, setting up a staff to handle applications, getting security clearances under the McCarran-Walter immigration act, and issing visas.

On another immigration front, the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, headed by former U. S. Ambassador Hugh Gibson, reports that since February, 1952, when it first began operations, over 220,000 European refugees from communism have been aided in finding new homes in non-Communist countries.

The number emigrating in May was 13,560, a new monthly high.

General Electric Co. has taken the lead in suspending employes who refuse to answer questions of plant security officers or who invoke the Fifth Amendment before congressional investigating committees. To date, 20 G. E. employes have been dropped under this program.

The rule is that any employe who fails to answer questions about alleged past or present connections with subversive organizations is suspended for 90 days. If within that time the employe does not clear his record, he is discharged. Most of the 20 so far suspended under this program have now been discharged.

One noteworthy fact about these 20 is that none of them was working on classified, or secret government defense contracts at the time he was suspended. All were on straight commercial work, where no security clearance is required.

No one can work on a defense contract or have access to secret material who has not been cleared by a plant security officer. He is an Army, Navy, Marine or Air Force officer stationed at each plant to supervise the government contracts for his service.

The interesting question in connection with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's list of 130 alleged subversives, turned over to Department of Defense for investigation, is how many of them will be found working on defense contracts?

Any that are working on straight commercial production cannot be touched by the government. The only way they can be discharged is by some company rule such as General Electric has put into effect for its employes.

Scientists Wage Drive to Discredit Gray Report on Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 24—Scientists are organizing propaganda campaigns to discredit the report of the board headed by Gordon Gray, president of the University of North Carolina, which recently ruled that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is a "security risk" within the meaning of existing regulations.

But some of those same scientists are trying to give the impression that Dr. Oppenheimer is being punished for his "views" on scientific matters, when the truth is he has been censured for specific acts and contradictory testimony, including admitted falsehoods to two different security officers of the United States Army in 1943.

What seems puzzling is that Dr. Oppenhiemer, Despite his "fury" about Nazi treatment of the Jews, not only contributed funds to a lot of Communist organizations but he continued to do so for many months after Stalin joined with Hitler. The official transcript of the hearings is very revealing on this point.

"Beginning in late 1936, my interests began to change," wrote Dr. Oppenheimer to the Atomic Energy Commission on March 4, 1954. "These changes did not alter my earlier friendships, my relations to my students, or my devotion to physics; but they added something new. I can discern in retrospect more than one reason for these changes. I had had a continuing, smouldering fury about the treatment of the Jews in Germany. I had relatives there, and was later to help in extracting them and bringing them to this country. . . ."

Hitler and Stalin joined in their alliance just before the war broke out in September 1939. From that time on through the terrible month in which the Soviets and the Nazis were allied, the armies of France were defeated and Britain began to feel the bombardment of Nazi planes. Holland and Belgium had been conquered and occupied. But Dr. Oppenheimer, unlike many other persons who were "fellow travellers" or in sympathy with the Communist cause prior to September 1939, did not stop contributing to or manifesting his sympathy with the Communist-front organizations. The persecution of the Jews continued throughout those same months.

According to testimony, Dr. Oppenheimer attended a meeting of one Communist-front organization on December 1, 1940, which was addressed by Mr. Schneiderman, who was secretary of the Communist Party in California. Dr. Oppenheimer admitted this on the witness stand. The meeting was held at the home of Haakon Chevalier, whom Dr. Oppenheimer says he knew as a fellow traveller and who, it is revealed, was the man contacted by an agent of the Soviet government in an unsuccessful attempt to elicit atomic bomb information from Dr. Oppenheimer. It was Chevalier that Dr. Oppenheimer admits he tried to protect and for whom he twice over a period of months in 1943 misled security officers of the United States Army who questioned him.

"Q. How long after 1942 did you continue as a fellow traveller?

"A. After 1942 I would say not at all.

"Q. But you did continue as a fellow traveller until 1942? . . .

"A. I had no sympathy with the Communist line about the war between the spring of 1940 and when they changed. I did not admire the fashion of their change.

"Q. Did you cease to be a fellow traveller at the time of the Nazi-Russian pact in 1939?

"A. I think I did, yes.

"Q. Now, you are changing—

"A. Though there were some things that the Communists were doing which I still had an interest in."

At another point in the proceedings, Chairman Gray interrogated Dr. Oppenheimer as follows:

"Q. The record shows, I believe, Dr. Oppenheimer, that you continued probably until sometime in 1942 to make financial contributions which went to Communist causes, with money passing to different people, but among others, Folkoff was one who was known to you to be a Communist Party officer.

"A. That is right."

At another point counsel Robb took up the interrogation as follows:

"Q. You knew it (the money) was going through Communist channels?

"A. I knew it.

"Q. For how many years did that go on?

"A. You have fixed the date in early 1942. I have a feeling that it about right. . . .

"Q. You mean your last contribution was probably early in 1942?

"A. Yes, in early 1942.

"Q. Starting in 1937 or earlier?

"A. Yes.

"Q. In other words, it continued for approximately four years?

"A. Yes.

"Q. What was the average yearly amount that went through those channels?

"A. I never totalled it up."

Later on, the testimony continued:

"Q. You might have given as much as $150 a month on the average?

"A. That is a leading question.

"Q. Yes, I know.

"A. I could have as far as the money I had available...I remember once giving $300."

It is precisely this sort of testimony which doesn't refer at all to "views" on science but which exasperated the majority of the board as evidenced by their final decision to weigh the specific acts and answers of Dr. Oppenheimer in coming to their adverse conclusion about him as a "security risk." The board refused to say he was disloyal. The security officers in Army Intelligence, however, questioned his loyalty, as the text of the formal findings of those Army officers reveals, but they were overruled by top officials on the atomic energy project.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 23—I am not much of a hand to be listed among those present at public goings-on, but when Theodore Moran, as chairman of the proceedings invited me to come around for the dedication of a new flagpole at Duffy Square, which is a little triangle of concrete and subway gratings at the confluence of Broadway and Seventh avenue, I said to myself, Pegler, that's for you. I knew Father Duffy, the chaplain of the 69th New York Regiment of Foot, a proud sentimental Irish outfit when they landed in their training area in France, as part of the Rainbow, under a General Mann of whom I remember only that he was overweight. His chief of staff was a very snappy colonel who imitated General Pershing's exceedingly correct posture and dress.

Under Pershing, an officer could not smoke a pipe in public and he had to keep his buttons buttoned and wear his cap square on his head, with a grommet in it. This chief of staff who was such a snazzy job of work later turned out to be one of the sloppiest soldiers on earth, but that was his prerogative because by then he was wearing all the stars we ever pinned on any general in order to simulate the rank of field marshal, which we ain't got. He affected smoked glasses and a corncob pipe, discarded his tie, which on the other side of the world Georgie Patton was insisting on even in battle, and went around everywhere with his collar unbuttoned and his cap awry. By Pershing's standard's, he looked like a bum out of a culvert, but when you get as much rank as Douglas MacArthur had by then you can go around in a kootch-dancer's girdle if that is your whim.

The garbos seemed reasonable because there was some bad sun glare out in the Pacific, but I don't recall pictures showing any other Pacific generals wearing them so maybe this was another little vanity. Generals have always gone in for rooster plumes, golden ropes, gaudy stripes on their pants and brass gobboons on their heads as the old prints and latter-day scenes of diplomatic splendor clearly show. Now some of them try to look like the grease-monkey who sells you 10 gallons of gas.

Father Duffy of the 69th had been pretty well known among the New York Irish before the regiment went to France, but once there he subtly projected his good influence outside his own regiment and with it his fair renown. Not that he was in the slightest degree pushful or "ambitious." It is just that he was a good man whose goodness radiated.

They had four medal of honor men among the guests of the Father Duffy Post of the Catholic War Veterans, by name Jimmy Walsh, a bluejacket in the landing party from the old Florida at Vera Cruz; Dick O'Neill, who got his on the Gurcq in the first big war; Tommy Kelly, who got his in Germany in the second one, and Johnny Meagher, who got his in Korea. Mike Donaldson, a sergeant of the 69th and an old-time prizefighter who hung them from the rafters at St. Nicholas rink and the Polo A.C. around 1913, also got the capital prize, thanks to some intervention by Damon Runyon, some time after the first war. But I didn't hear him around so I conclude that he missed the do. I so conclude because if you don't hear Mike you know Mike is not within a mile of where you are.

Well, it was a very nice do, and I had some mixed reflections because these all were men and women who either live or work or both in a part of New York which has been going to pot for years. They had come from Mass at the Church of the Holy Cross on West Forty-second street, which used to be a theatrical Rialto in the decent meaning of the term but is now a stretch of sordidness answering to the appropriate professional term of louse-opera. This seems to come from the flea circus. They do not call such artists fleas in the profession. They call them louses.

There is not a single live show on Broadway today but only movies, and many of them questionable, and shooting galleries and arcades. You see terrible people doing terrible things and yet decent families raise nice, polite, conscientious children in the midst of this squalor as I used to notice around Madison Square Garden by watching little girls mind their baby brothers and sisters and listening to the talk of girls and boys, both. They might look like dead end kids, but religion and decency are still rife there in spite of hell.

I remember one such, a pale little girl named Margie Regan

IKE'S LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

President Eisenhower is understandably concerned with the fate of his legislative program. He is a constructive-minded man, and he wants positive accomplishments to take to the voters this fall.

Every day that goes by without expeditious action makes it more likely that some items in the program will fall away in the final reckoning. Congressional leaders now talk of adjourning the 83rd Congress on July 31. Even if it should stretch out to August 15, the pressure of appropriations bills will tend to crowd out some measures.

The most important domestic measures are in the field of housing, social security extension, farm supports and tax revision.

The big tax reform bill seems sure of passage, as does widening of social security. Controversy over public housing features, however, may produce a final proposal much weaker than the President seeks.

Mr. Eisenhower's wish for a flexible farm price support system could produce a bitter floor struggle. The House Agriculture Committee already has approved continuance of high rigid supports. Should the full House or Senate or both follow this course, and the President veto the proposal, much time might be consumed on the question whether to override his veto.

The President already has given up the fight for 1954 on his liberal foreign trade program. He is settling for a one-year extension of the existing Reciprocal Trade Act, and should get it without much trouble. The House has passed the bill, and the Senate can be expected to go along.

The size of foreign aid to Europe and Asia is alway a matter for some debate, but with luck Congress might get through this one without too much lost time.

Mr. Eisenhower has lost out on revision of the Taft-Hartley, on important foreign trade changes, apparently on statehood for Hawaii (fatally linked with Alaska by the Senate), apparently on much of his housing demands. He will get less than he wants on health measures and certain other welfare proposals.

What happens to his farm plans may do a lot to give the final coloring to his 1953-54 record of legislative accomplishment.

Let us suppose the worst, that he gets no more than now seems likely, that he loses on the farm issue.

Will this really determine the fate of the Republican Party at the polls next November?

One may quickly acknowledge that the legislative story will play a role in voters' decisions, without agreeing that it will make the whole case for or against, or even the biggest part.

The people judge a party, and their President, as governing instruments. What Congress achieves in a particular two-year period could be a minor element in the story. They may be much more affected by the way a government executes foreign policy, plans defense, controls internal subversion.

Mr. Eisenhower is wise to stress constructive legislative acts. But he and his party will be weighed in a context far wider than the boundaries of Capitol Hill.

TEXAS MAVERICK

A New Dealer in public life seems to be a rare commodity in Texas. The late Maury Maverick, twice congressman in the '30's and later mayor of San Antonio, was one. These offices constituted his entire elective career, though in World War II he headed the Smaller War Plants Corporation.

He was active for Stevenson in 1952 when most Texas politicians were either for Eisenhower or kept quiet. If the Democrats returned to power in the near future, Maverick's record for party loyalty would have made him a probable selection for an important post.

His son, Maury Maverick, Jr., has got as far up the political ladder as the Texas House of Representatives. If he shares his father's views and the present Texas political climate changes, he may be heard from.

ISOTOPES

John Jay Hopkins, President of General Dynamics Corporation, whose company manufactures submarines, recently made this startling statement:

"So great is the expansion of uses of radioactivity in the field of medicine, it is estimated that already the lives of more people have been saved by the atom than were lost in the Hiroshima and Nagasaki explosions!"

It is an important statement about a subject of which most of us are ignorant. I know that when my dog, Brownie, was dying of cancer, I discussed some of the new drugs with authorities and discovered a few that had been tried on humans with some measure of success, but they had not been tried on dogs. The experts in this field are very conservative because they still know so little about what they have discovered.

One story I came across in this investigation is particularly interesting. It was found in a part of England that the cattle reached a certain age, became ill and died. A vast experiment was undertaken to discover the cause. Half the cattle were taken elsewhere and they thrived, but the cattle that remained in their home meadows sickened. Again they were divided into two lots and those who were removed got well and flourished. After thorough study it was found to be a soil and plant problem; that in the home meadows there was a total lack of cobalt in the soil.

When it comes to such a subject as soil chemistry, I fear that my knowledge is so weak that I may not even repeat correctly what I hear, but it seems to be my recollection that the entire plant life of these meadows was changed and thereafter the cattle in the home meadows flourished. Maybe some day the scientists may discover that the chemical unbalance in our foods may be responsible for some of these troubles.

Hopkins reports:

"Through the use of radioactive phosphorous—which checks the over-production of red blood cells in the bone marrow—the lives of sufferers from leukemia have been prolonged. One of our most famous ethical laboratories is offering radioactive iodine in capsule form for the treatment of thyroid disorders without the need of hospitalization or elaborate controls."

I do not know quite how far this has gone and those who do know are extremely conservative in their statements. But an entire new field is being opened up as a result of the use of rare earths and of the isotopes of atomic fission which may change the entire field of medical treatment, particularly as regards the various forms of cancer.

If three problems of our health can be solved, enormous numbers of lives can be saved. These are the various heart ailments, the cancers, and the disturbances of the pancreas. Most of these ailments catch us unawares and lay us low without much of a fighting chance, although so much is being done by the physician and the chemist as to give us great hope for the future.

The two major illnesses of the pancreas are diabetes, in which insulin is discharged too niggardly, and hyperinsulinism in which the hormone is discharged too generously. Of the two, hyperinsulinism is the more difficult to handle and while it does not produce shocks and comas, it does leave the sufferer without energy and often in a state of extreme nervousness. It may be assumed correctly that most alcoholics suffer from hyperinsulinism which literally drives them to drink. Insulin can be administered for diabetes but not for hyperinsulinism which is detected by glucose tolerance tests. It is a tough illness to have.

John Jay Hopkins gives some evidence of the movement of isotopes in the curative field when he notes:

". . . while the largest single employer of isotopic materials is industry, the second largest application is in the field of medicine. Some perspective on our progress in the last few years may be gained from the figures on shipment of radioactive isotopes. In 1946 there were a total of 246 shipments, in 1953 there were 10,676. Other nations, particularly Canada, are also large producers."

It may be that the progress made in these fields will not only add years to our lives but will free us from some of the most unpleasant effects of living too long, of pains and aches and fears which remove from old age the joy of living.

That Body of Yours

PERENNIAL RHINITIS—SNUFFY NOSE

As youngsters we remember the large number of cases of "running noses" and how so many children used to come to school day after day and week after week with this same condition. It was usually called just a "cold" but nothing seemed to be done about it. Today this condition of a runny or running nose is called rhinitis—inflammation of the nose that causes running—and because it appears at all times it is called perennial — lasting through the year.

Now it is considered one of the most important upper respiratory disturbances but many patients with mild forms never consult a physician. It is a forerunner in about 50 per cent of the cases of asthma. Many of these cases will not seek medical aid until they wheeze or have sinus trouble or a stuffed nose from polyps.

The most frequent symptoms are attacks of itching of the nose, sneezing and runny or stuffy nose; they may last for a few minutes or several hours. Some patients feel as if they have a cold all the time.

These attacks may be brought on by inhalants such as insect sprays, paints, varnishes, oils, perfumes, occupational dusts and odors, fumes and smokes. Foods often responsible, because of allergy, are cereals, nuts, chocolate, fish, fruits, milk, eggs, spices, vegetables, alcohol, beer and soft drinks. Almost any drug taken by mouth may cause symptoms in some people. The lining of the allergic nose becomes impaired and boggy.

It is felt that even the mildest case of perennial rhinitis should be investigated. The ideal goal is to avoid all the offending substances but this is very difficult to do and often desensitization becomes necessary. This is done by injecting small doses of the offending substance to build a resistance against it. Nasal polyps and sinus disease should be treated. Certain vaccines, X-ray treatments, various drugs, including cortisone, also help many cases. An attempt should be made to solve any emotional problem which may be present. Various measures may be used to reduce the swelling in the lining of the nose but these bring temporary relief only and do not solve the problem of the real cause.

The above seem a truly formidable list of treatments but we should remember that as this common snuffy nose, lasting all through the year, may be the forerunner of diseases such as asthma, it should be treated as thoroughly as possible.

Washington — (NEA)—Richard Harkness, NBC commentator, got a telephone call from an irate woman listener the other evening.

He had just finished a broadcast in which he had said that Senator McCarthy might be doing a disserve to the Eisenhower administration if he did not report immediately to Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles or FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover any knowledge he might have about Communists in the government.

The woman listener said she disagreed, and that Senator McCarthy should not turn over the names.

Harkness started to reason with her. "Look!" he said. "You don't think Allen Dulles would keep any known Communists in CIA, do you?"

"I certainly do," she said.

Patiently, Harkness tried again. "You don't think President Eisenhower would keep any Communists working for him, do you?" he asked. "The President would fire them immediately," he assured her.

And then, to Mr. Harkness' burning ears there came back the reply, "Not if they were Republican Communists."

ARMY PRIVATE G. David Schine and Atomic Scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer both use the same amount of space to list their accomplishments and biographical data in "Who's Who" — 19 lines.

Dr. Oppenheimer's sketch says simply: "Director, laboratory, Los Alamos, N. M., that perfected the atomic bomb, 1943-45 . . . chmn. gen. adv. com. AEC, 1947-53." He leaves out the fact that he was awarded the U. S. Medal for Merit for that work.

Private Schine lists his principal accomplishments as: "Advisor spl. asst. atty. gen. U. S. in charge subversive activities, 1952, assisted investigation Communist infiltration into UN; chief cons. Senate Permanent Subcom. on Investigations, Com. on Govt. Operations, since January, 1953."

Committee records show Roy M. Cohn as the chief counsel.

Fifty Netherlanders, refugees from last year's disastrous floods, are scheduled to arrive in New York June 25. This will be the first sizable group of European refugees to come to America under the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, signed last August.

The program calls for admission to the U. S. of 209,000 refugees before Dec. 31, 1956. To date only 53 refugees have actually arrived in this country under the new law.

The program got away to a slow start because of the necessity for issuing new regulations, setting up a staff to handle applications, getting security clearances under the McCarran-Walter immigration act, and issing visas.

On another immigration front, the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, headed by former U. S. Ambassador Hugh Gibson, reports that since February, 1952, when it first began operations, over 220,000 European refugees from communism have been aided in finding new homes in non-Communist countries.

The number emigrating in May was 13,560, a new monthly high.

General Electric Co. has taken the lead in suspending employes who refuse to answer questions of plant security officers or who invoke the Fifth Amendment before congressional investigating committees. To date, 20 G. E. employes have been dropped under this program.

The rule is that any employe who fails to answer questions about alleged past or present connections with subversive organizations is suspended for 90 days. If within that time the employe does not clear his record, he is discharged. Most of the 20 so far suspended under this program have now been discharged.

One noteworthy fact about these 20 is that none of them was working on classified, or secret government defense contracts at the time he was suspended. All were on straight commercial work, where no security clearance is required.

No one can work on a defense contract or have access to secret material who has not been cleared by a plant security officer. He is an Army, Navy, Marine or Air Force officer stationed at each plant to supervise the government contracts for his service.

The interesting question in connection with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's list of 130 alleged subversives, turned over to Department of Defense for investigation, is how many of them will be found working on defense contracts?

Any that are working on straight commercial production cannot be touched by the government. The only way they can be discharged is by some company rule such as General Electric has put into effect for its employes.

Scientists Wage Drive to Discredit Gray Report on Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 24—Scientists are organizing propaganda campaigns to discredit the report of the board headed by Gordon Gray, president of the University of North Carolina, which recently ruled that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is a "security risk" within the meaning of existing regulations.

But some of those same scientists are trying to give the impression that Dr. Oppenheimer is being punished for his "views" on scientific matters, when the truth is he has been censured for specific acts and contradictory testimony, including admitted falsehoods to two different security officers of the United States Army in 1943.

What seems puzzling is that Dr. Oppenhiemer, Despite his "fury" about Nazi treatment of the Jews, not only contributed funds to a lot of Communist organizations but he continued to do so for many months after Stalin joined with Hitler. The official transcript of the hearings is very revealing on this point.

"Beginning in late 1936, my interests began to change," wrote Dr. Oppenheimer to the Atomic Energy Commission on March 4, 1954. "These changes did not alter my earlier friendships, my relations to my students, or my devotion to physics; but they added something new. I can discern in retrospect more than one reason for these changes. I had had a continuing, smouldering fury about the treatment of the Jews in Germany. I had relatives there, and was later to help in extracting them and bringing them to this country. . . ."

Hitler and Stalin joined in their alliance just before the war broke out in September 1939. From that time on through the terrible month in which the Soviets and the Nazis were allied, the armies of France were defeated and Britain began to feel the bombardment of Nazi planes. Holland and Belgium had been conquered and occupied. But Dr. Oppenheimer, unlike many other persons who were "fellow travellers" or in sympathy with the Communist cause prior to September 1939, did not stop contributing to or manifesting his sympathy with the Communist-front organizations. The persecution of the Jews continued throughout those same months.

According to testimony, Dr. Oppenheimer attended a meeting of one Communist-front organization on December 1, 1940, which was addressed by Mr. Schneiderman, who was secretary of the Communist Party in California. Dr. Oppenheimer admitted this on the witness stand. The meeting was held at the home of Haakon Chevalier, whom Dr. Oppenheimer says he knew as a fellow traveller and who, it is revealed, was the man contacted by an agent of the Soviet government in an unsuccessful attempt to elicit atomic bomb information from Dr. Oppenheimer. It was Chevalier that Dr. Oppenheimer admits he tried to protect and for whom he twice over a period of months in 1943 misled security officers of the United States Army who questioned him.

"Q. How long after 1942 did you continue as a fellow traveller?

"A. After 1942 I would say not at all.

"Q. But you did continue as a fellow traveller until 1942? . . .

"A. I had no sympathy with the Communist line about the war between the spring of 1940 and when they changed. I did not admire the fashion of their change.

"Q. Did you cease to be a fellow traveller at the time of the Nazi-Russian pact in 1939?

"A. I think I did, yes.

"Q. Now, you are changing—

"A. Though there were some things that the Communists were doing which I still had an interest in."

At another point in the proceedings, Chairman Gray interrogated Dr. Oppenheimer as follows:

"Q. The record shows, I believe, Dr. Oppenheimer, that you continued probably until sometime in 1942 to make financial contributions which went to Communist causes, with money passing to different people, but among others, Folkoff was one who was known to you to be a Communist Party officer.

"A. That is right."

At another point counsel Robb took up the interrogation as follows:

"Q. You knew it (the money) was going through Communist channels?

"A. I knew it.

"Q. For how many years did that go on?

"A. You have fixed the date in early 1942. I have a feeling that it about right. . . .

"Q. You mean your last contribution was probably early in 1942?

"A. Yes, in early 1942.

"Q. Starting in 1937 or earlier?

"A. Yes.

"Q. In other words, it continued for approximately four years?

"A. Yes.

"Q. What was the average yearly amount that went through those channels?

"A. I never totalled it up."

Later on, the testimony continued:

"Q. You might have given as much as $150 a month on the average?

"A. That is a leading question.

"Q. Yes, I know.

"A. I could have as far as the money I had available...I remember once giving $300."

It is precisely this sort of testimony which doesn't refer at all to "views" on science but which exasperated the majority of the board as evidenced by their final decision to weigh the specific acts and answers of Dr. Oppenheimer in coming to their adverse conclusion about him as a "security risk." The board refused to say he was disloyal. The security officers in Army Intelligence, however, questioned his loyalty, as the text of the formal findings of those Army officers reveals, but they were overruled by top officials on the atomic energy project.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 23—I am not much of a hand to be listed among those present at public goings-on, but when Theodore Moran, as chairman of the proceedings invited me to come around for the dedication of a new flagpole at Duffy Square, which is a little triangle of concrete and subway gratings at the confluence of Broadway and Seventh avenue, I said to myself, Pegler, that's for you. I knew Father Duffy, the chaplain of the 69th New York Regiment of Foot, a proud sentimental Irish outfit when they landed in their training area in France, as part of the Rainbow, under a General Mann of whom I remember only that he was overweight. His chief of staff was a very snappy colonel who imitated General Pershing's exceedingly correct posture and dress.

Under Pershing, an officer could not smoke a pipe in public and he had to keep his buttons buttoned and wear his cap square on his head, with a grommet in it. This chief of staff who was such a snazzy job of work later turned out to be one of the sloppiest soldiers on earth, but that was his prerogative because by then he was wearing all the stars we ever pinned on any general in order to simulate the rank of field marshal, which we ain't got. He affected smoked glasses and a corncob pipe, discarded his tie, which on the other side of the world Georgie Patton was insisting on even in battle, and went around everywhere with his collar unbuttoned and his cap awry. By Pershing's standard's, he looked like a bum out of a culvert, but when you get as much rank as Douglas MacArthur had by then you can go around in a kootch-dancer's girdle if that is your whim.

The garbos seemed reasonable because there was some bad sun glare out in the Pacific, but I don't recall pictures showing any other Pacific generals wearing them so maybe this was another little vanity. Generals have always gone in for rooster plumes, golden ropes, gaudy stripes on their pants and brass gobboons on their heads as the old prints and latter-day scenes of diplomatic splendor clearly show. Now some of them try to look like the grease-monkey who sells you 10 gallons of gas.

Father Duffy of the 69th had been pretty well known among the New York Irish before the regiment went to France, but once there he subtly projected his good influence outside his own regiment and with it his fair renown. Not that he was in the slightest degree pushful or "ambitious." It is just that he was a good man whose goodness radiated.

They had four medal of honor men among the guests of the Father Duffy Post of the Catholic War Veterans, by name Jimmy Walsh, a bluejacket in the landing party from the old Florida at Vera Cruz; Dick O'Neill, who got his on the Qurcq in the first big war; Tommy Kelly, who got his in Germany in the second one, and Johnny Meagher, who got his in Korea. Mike Donaldson, a sergeant of the 69th and an old-time prizefighter who hung them from the rafters at St. Nicholas rink and the Polo A.C. around 1913, also got the capital prize, thanks to some intervention by Damon Runyon, some time after the first war. But I didn't hear him around so I conclude that he missed the do. I so conclude because if you don't hear Mike you know Mike is not within a mile of where you are.

Well, it was a very nice do, and I had some mixed reflections because these all were men and women who either live or work or both in a part of New York which has been going to pot for years. They had come from Mass at the Church of the Holy Cross on West Forty-second street, which used to be a theatrical Rialto in the decent meaning of the term but is now a stretch of sordidness answering to the appropriate professional term of louse-opera. This seems to come from the flea circus. They do not call such artists fleas in the profession. They call them louses.

There is not a single live show on Broadway today but only movies, and many of them questionable, and shooting galleries and arcades. You see terrible people doing terrible things and yet decent families raise nice, polite, conscientious children in the midst of this squalor as I used to notice around Madison Square Garden by watching little girls mind their baby brothers and sisters and listening to the talk of girls and boys, both. They might look like dead end kids, but religion and decency are still rife there in spite of hell.

3 Get Out, 1 Returns

Tampa, Fla., June 24 (AP)—Three Negroes escaped from a state road camp last night. A short time later one of them returned to camp, leading a bloodhound. M. J. Cherry, clerk at the camp, said the men sawed their way out of a barracks window while awaiting a physician. Cherry said one of the three, 20-year-old Bill Sneed, returned leading a bloodhound named Sadie on a makeshift leash and told this story: The other two convicts left him after the break. He tried to swim the Hillsborough river but went under twice. Then Sadie showed up, so he decided to return to camp. He made a leash and led the dog back with him.

William Samadu Koffi Jackson stuck his tongue out. It looked like any other tongue. No charred edges, no burned spots. Which is surprising, because for 20 years or so William Samadu Koffi Jackson has been eating fire every day.

Fire eating, one of the most venerable of vaudeville turns, still flourishes in the little vaudeville that remains. Samadu, as he's billed, was gulping flame at the Palace with the brilliant Claude Marchand Company, a troupe of 14 African dancers and singers and fire eaters.

He was eduated in England, but picked up his hot diet habit back home in Nigeria. He's from the Yoruba tribe, and his uncle taught him how to consume conflagrations when he was just a lad and had a small lukewarm appetite.

"I wish I'd let him teach me more," Samadu said, sadly. "My uncle was magnificent. He had one great ability. He would stand with a tall mat placed all around him. The mat was soaked in kerosene and set afire. My uncle would grin and disappear. He wanted to teach me, but you know how children are. I wouldn't practice."

Samadu says fire-eating is all a question of mind over matter. It's as easy as walking on broken glass, which he also does. You've got to be sure your mind is well over the matter, though, otherwise OUCH! Samadu's skin is also fireproof, but once a jokester came up behind him with a burning cigaret and gleefully noted that Samadu jumped when cigaret met skin.

"You see," Samadu says, "I wasn't ready. I told him, 'You do that now and I won't jump.' He did. I didn't."

Being a fire eater has some social drawbacks. He doesn't touch alcohol, for fear of internal combustion. And somehow smoking has never excited him. And he only eats light meals.

It takes him an hour or so before a show to get ready. Sort of a warm-up period. He has to think about things. After a show, it takes another hour to cool down. He rubs himself all over with a warm towel. No shower, though; he might scald himself in his own steam.

How does it feel to swallow flame?

"A sensation of warmth, that's all" says Samadu. Sounds easy, but don't try it, unless your uncle is a Yaruba.

Electrol Reports Year's Earnings And Other Data

Electrol Incorporated, 85 Grand street, this city, manufacturer of aircraft and industrial hydraulic devices, reports for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1954, net profit of $23,368.72, or 8 cents per share of 315,364 shares of common stock outstanding at the year end. For the preceding year net was $248,206.08, or 82 cents per share on the 302,750 common shares then outstanding. New sales amounted to $6,520,733.94 as compared with $10,730,636.01 for the previous year. An operating loss of $164,867.22 would have incurred had it not been for recoverable taxes amounting to $190,000.00 on income of the prior year.

B. N. Ashton, president, noted in the report that the fiscal year ended March 31, 1954, was one of transition for the company and that the cutback in government procurement and necessary stretchout of contracts necessitated a complete readjustment of operations. Mr. Ashton further stated that the ratio of current assets to current liabilities improved from 1.28% to 1.51% and that the company had considerably improved its financial position. The steadily mounting backlog now amounts to approximately $4,000,000.00, with operations for the current fiscal year showing promise of a reasonable profit.

"You see," Samadu says, "I wasn't ready. I told him, 'You do that now and I won't jump.' He did. I didn't."

Being a fire eater has some social drawbacks. He doesn't touch alcohol, for fear of internal combustion. And somehow smoking has never excited him. And he only eats light meals.

It takes him an hour or so before a show to get ready. Sort of a warm-up period. He has to think about things. After a show, it takes another hour to cool down. He rubs himself all over with a warm towel. No shower, though: he might scald himself in his own steam.

How does it feel to swallow flame?

"A sensation of warmth, that's all" says Samadu. Sounds easy, but don't try it, unless your uncle is a Yaruba.

Actress Maxine Stewart and her husband, actor Frank Maxwell, have a young daughter named Chritopher. Alan Mowbray, TV's "Col. Humphrey Flack," asked Maxine during a rehearsal why they picked a masculine name for a girl.

"If she becomes an actress someday," Maxine explained, "she'll get a bigger billing because they'll have to call her Miss Christopher Maxwell."

Mark Stevens, alias Martin Kane, has a nice, honest approach to himself and his own ability. He's overly modest, but that's refreshing.

"I know I'm a good actor," Mark says: "I know my job and I can do it, but I'll never be a Lunt or an Evans. Real actors are like cabinet makers: all I can do is knock a table together."

Truman Shows Progress

Kansas City, June 24 (AP)—Harry S. Truman continues to show progress in recovering from an emergency operation but his doctor declines to estimate how much longer the 70-year-old former President will remain in the hospital. Dr. Wallace Graham said last night that normally a post-operative patient would be in the hospital 10 days. Truman's gall bladder and appendix were removed last Sunday. Graham said his patient "just couldn't be doing any better."

Electrol Reports Year's Earnings And Other Data

Electrol Incorporated, 85 Grand street, this city, manufacturer of aircraft and industrial hydraulic devices, reports for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1954, net profit of $23,368.72, or 8 cents per share of 315,364 shares of common stock outstanding at the year end. For the preceding year net was $248,206.08, or 82 cents per share on the 302,750 common shares then outstanding. New sales amounted to $6,520,733.94 as compared with $10,730,636.01 for the previous year. An operating loss of $164,867.22 would have incurred had it not been for recoverable taxes amounting to $190,000.00 on income of the prior year.

B. N. Ashton, president, noted in the report that the fiscal year ended March 31, 1954, was one of transition for the company and that the cutback in government procurement and necessary stretchout of contracts necessitated a complete readjustment of operations. Mr. Ashton further stated that the ratio of current assets to current liabilities improved from 1.28% to 1.51% and that the company had considerably improved its financial position. The steadily mounting backlog now amounts to approximately $4,000,000.00, with operations for the current fiscal year showing promise of a reasonable profit.

Mohican to Give Glasses

Starting today and as long as the supply lasts, the Mohican Market will distribute with every dozen cookies purchased a pair of safety glasses for use in watching the eclipse on the morning of June 30. It is expected that more than three-quarters of the sun's face will be eclipsed as the moon cuts off its light. Only by use of special glasses is it possible to see the moon pass in front of the sun.

Paper Is Stymied

Norman, Okla., June 24 (AP)—The Oklahoma Daily, student newspaper at the University of Oklahoma, was stymied yesterday in its campus poll to determine the most popular candidate for secretary of state in Oklahoma. Reporters found only 1 of 30 faculty members and students questioned could name any of the 24 candidates.

Boat Is School Bus

Clinton, Iowa (AP) — A rowboat is a school bus for the six school age children of the Peter Edfors family. They live on Beaver Island in the Mississippi river. Each morning they are ferried across about 200 yards of the river. Mrs. Edfors not only checks to see that the children are wearing their coats or jackets, but also that they are wearing their life preservers. When the river is frozen, they mount the boat on runners and their father or brother pushes it across.

Calves at Wholesale

Fremont, Mo. (AP) — Bossie, a Guernsey cow belonging to Mrs. Alice Hoagland of Fremont, dropped three sets of calves in a row, and all within less than 26 months. All the five bulls and four heifers were normal at birth and only two died.

Henderson, N. C., (AP)—Horace Johnson, 9, had to give away his collie dog, Mike. Neighbors complained that Mike was tearing up gardens and breaking milk bottles. Horace appealed for a house dog in a letter to the News and Observer in Raleigh. A reader solved the problem with the gift of a Mexican Chihuahua.

Six of Shakespeare's signatures still are extant.

Ottawa, (AP)—A 10-man survey party is seeking a new site for the remote arctic community of Aklavik on the MacKenzie River delta 70 miles south of the Arctic Ocean. The 42-year-old settlement, largest in the Canadian arctic, is in danger of sinking through melting permafrost. Summer heat, ground warmth created by buildings and excavations and roads turn the present permafrost terrain into a quagmire. Lack of an adequate year-round water supply and sewage disposal system has created a serious health problem for the 400 whites, 250 Eskimos and 125 Indians who live in the community.

Henderson, N. C., (AP)—Horace Johnson, 9, had to give away his collie dog, Mike. Neighbors complained that Mike was tearing up gardens and breaking milk bottles. Horace appealed for a house dog in a letter to the News and Observer in Raleigh. A reader solved the problem with the gift of a Mexican Chihuahua.

NOSEY NEIGHBOR

A reader asks this question: "Will you please tell me what I can say to a neighbor of mine who, upon seeing me leave my house, never fails to ask me where I am going? It is not that where I go is a secret, but nevertheless, I do resent having to give an account to her every time I go out. I always think that I won't tell her the next time she asks me, but then I do because I can't think of anything else to say that isn't rude. I would appreciate any suggestions you have to offer."

I think you might get into the habit of saying, "I'm just going down the street," or "I'm going downtown," or "uptown" or something equally truthful but evasive.

Wedding Gift From Singer

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a professional singer and my fee for singing at a wedding is fifteen dollars. My girl friend is going to be married soon and has asked me to sing at her wedding, which I accepted with great pleasure. Of course, I do not intend to accept any money for this, but would I have to give her a wedding present in addition, or might this be considered my wedding present to her?

Answer: If your income is very small, your singing would be sufficient. But if you can afford to do so, then I think it would be pleasing to her if you would give her a little something that she can keep.

When Should You Rise

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a girl seventeen years old and am wondering if it is still proper for me to stand when an adult enters the room. I was taught to do this as a very little girl and have been doing it ever since. Is there a set rule concerning this?

Answer: In your own house, you, of course, stand as everyone does when a visitor comes in. In the house of another, you only stand for those who are elderly.

What should the guests wear for the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Clothes for a daytime or evening reception are described in her leaflet E-6. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. FP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

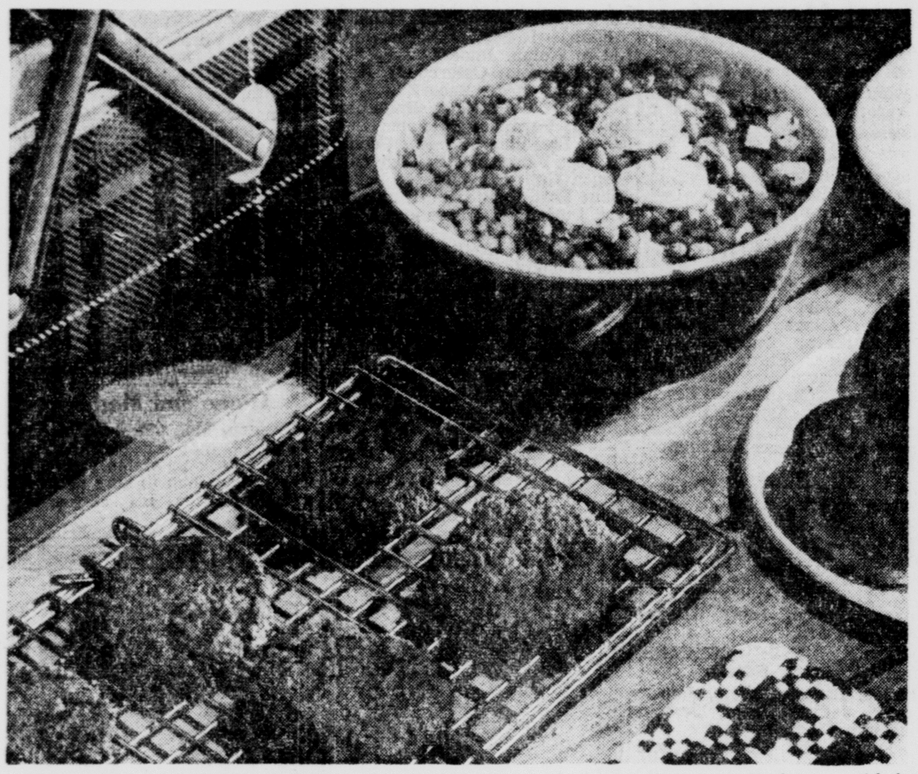
Dime Fines Fail

Whiteville, N. C. (AP)—Whiteville tried reducing the fine for overparking at meters from $1 to a dime. Most parkers prefered not putting any money in the meters at all, and taking their chances on getting caught. City Manager Ralph Woodard reported ruefully.

Picnic Meals Are Popular



After spring fever comes gypsy-itis—the urge to roam far and wide, to be free of schedules and the hurried pace of weekday living, to lazy about in the sun and air.

Gypsy-itis can be cured most effectively by frequent picnics. Even a meal outdoors in your own backyard helps stay off the ache of a roaming heart.

For the "cure," we suggest two old favorites done up in new guise. They are hamburgers—tasty hamburgers enlivened with the addition of hamburger relish. A kind of old-fashioned chili sauce mixed with chopped pickles, onions and red and green peppers, this newly marketed relish really picks up the flavor of ground meat. Broil the meat patties over an open fire, over crackling coals, and the result—yum! Nothing could be finer.

Or if you're one of those mustard on hamburger fans, you might like to try using hot dog relish instead of the hamburger. It's a tangy blend of yellow mustard and chopped sweet pickles.

Baked beans come to the picnic in the form of a salad. Hearty Bean Salad combines canned baked beans in tomato sauce with celery, onion, pepper and hard-cooked eggs. Salad dressing and a dash of mustard round out the flavor.

Pickles, tomatoes and assorted relishes plus toasted buns round out the menu. For dessert, we'd suggest fresh fruit and cookies.

For ideas for outdoor cooking and eating, H. J. Heinz Company, Box 57, Pittsburgh 30, Pennsylvania, is offering a new booklet with the inviting title, "Let's Eat Outdoors." Copies are free on request.

Rest Is Ordered

Hollywood, June 24 (AP)—A three-day rest in bed has been ordered for Marilyn Monroe, who collapsed three times since the start of her current picture four weeks ago. Dr. S. R. Kennamer sent her home yesterday after her latest collapse. He said she was run down as a result of a flu attack 10 days ago, but probably would be able to resume her work Saturday at Twentieth Century-Fox Studios.

U. S. Releases Cash

Bonn, Germany, June 24 (AP)—The United States has released 58 million marks ($13,804,000) to help relieve unemployment in isolated West Berlin. Most of this will be used for public works projects, the Federal Economics Ministry said yesterday in announcing the grant.

Kingston Rotary Ladies' Night

Larman Sherwood, lecturer in human relations, was guest speaker at the Ladies' Night of the Kingston Rotary Club held Wednesday at Lake Minnewaska. Approximately 100 enjoyed the delicious full-course meal and the program which followed at The Wildmere.

Speaking on the topic, "Reflections of a Happy Man," Sherwood thrilled his audience with wit and wisdom as he outlined his prescription for happiness, an evaluation of man's personal habits.

His courage and humor inspired all those who heard him and the impact of the address will be felt for a long time.

Blind since birth, Sherwood has made a remarkable adjustment to life. He is engaged in lecturing and preaching throughout the country and travels 50,000 miles a year unaccompanied.

An ordained Methodist minister, he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in literature from Union College and his Master's Degree at the New York State College for Teachers at Albany.

President Larry V. Bogert presided and welcomed the guests. Rotarians E. Frank Flanagan and Dr. Charles D. Carter were honored by the service club. Ray A. Elmendorf, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Meeting Scheduled

A twilight meeting for corn growers has been scheduled by the Ulster County Farm Bureau for Tuesday, June 29, at Garrison Brothers Farm, Plains road, Wallkill, at 7 p. m. The program includes inspection of a corn variety trial plot with six varieties growing, and discussions on weed control, Stewarts' disease, need for nitrogen side dressing, and other problems including that of the dry weather.

When hungry, it cried "loud enough to wake the whole house," she said.

Got His Answers

Hartford, Conn., June 24 (AP)—John Holmes, 31, placed this classified ad in the Hartford Courant: "Ramshackle farm; for direct sale from owner (realtors just laugh!) at fancy price, forty acres of pin oaks and black snakes. Old World charm includes sagging floors, tortuous stairway and drafty fireplaces. Located in Higganum (ugh!) Conn. Dandy opportunity to toughen up wife and kiddies for future. If you think this ad is funny, wait until you see this farm. Telephone. If a hollow laugh answers, don't hang up—that will be the owner." Holmes, a salesman who has been living on the 100-year-old farm for three years, said he had several calls last night from people who want to look the farm over.

Talk Burns Home

Novato, Calif., (AP)—A woman found her party telephone line in use when she wanted to report a fire in her home. She pleaded with the unidentified talkers for a clear line. "Let it burn down," said a stubborn gossiper. It did.

Jenkins Considers

Knoxville, Tenn., June 24 (AP)—Ray Jenkins says the publicity given the McCarthy-Army hearings, of which he was special counsel, has made him look favorably on an offer of running for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. But Jenkins said he has not yet made up his mind. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) is seeking reelection. He went to his farm today to begin work on boiling down the 80,000 pages of testimony into a few hundred pages.

Home and Mother

Trenton, Mo., (AP) — Alva McWaid, 74, quit his trash-hauling job and took up watch repairing. That allows him to stay at home and care for his 98-year-old mother.

U. S. Is Accused

New York, June 24 (AP)—Rabbi Irving Miller, president of the Zionist Organization of America, charged the U. S. State Department last night with having a policy of "coddling the Arabs under the slogan of impartiality." He contended that any shipment of arms to the Arab states would not be used by them to thwart Communist aggression in the Middle East. Miller made the statements in addressing 1,000 delegates at the opening of the annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America.

Ordered to Duty

Ferrara, Italy, June 24 (AP)—Ferrara's police and firemen were ordered today to emergency dairymaid duty. Their commanders told them that until striking farm workers go back to their jobs, they should help the province's farmers feed and milk cattle. Cattle on 4,000 farms are reported suffering or dying from lack of feed and water.

If American or Swiss cheese gets moldy, just cut off the green part. The cheese underneath is perfectly good.

Got His Answers

Hartford, Conn., June 24 (AP)—John Holmes, 31, placed this classified ad in the Hartford Courant: "Ramshackle farm; for direct sale from owner (realtors just laugh!) at fancy price, forty acres of pin oaks and black snakes. Old World charm includes sagging floors, tortuous stairway and drafty fireplaces. Located in Higganum (ugh!) Conn. Dandy opportunity to toughen up wife and kiddies for future. If you think this ad is funny, wait until you see this farm. Telephone. If a hollow laugh answers, don't hang up—that will be the owner." Holmes, a salesman who has been living on the 100-year-old farm for three years, said he had several calls last night from people who want to look the farm over.

Talk Burns Home

Novato, Calif., (AP)—A woman found her party telephone line in use when she wanted to report a fire in her home. She pleaded with the unidentified talkers for a clear line. "Let it burn down," said a stubborn gossiper. It did.

Jenkins Considers

Knoxville, Tenn., June 24 (AP)—Ray Jenkins says the publicity given the McCarthy-Army hearings, of which he was special counsel, has made him look favorably on an offer of running for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. But Jenkins said he has not yet made up his mind. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) is seeking reelection. He went to his farm today to begin work on boiling down the 80,000 pages of testimony into a few hundred pages.

An amendment to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Gas issued June 3, 1954 to become effective July 3, 1954 adds Section 12 to the general regulations in that schedule providing that additional facilities will be constructed when the company cannot be assured that the business to be served will be permanent or unusual expenditures are necessary to supply the service only when applicant or customer makes an adequate contribution toward the cost of such facilities, or guarantees continued payment of bills for gas service, or makes other satisfactory arrangements sufficient to warrant the company undertaking the investment and expense involved.

MissHenderson,71, Dies in Hospital; Burial, Woodstock

Miss Alice Henderson, 71, a prominent resident of the village of Woodstock for 20 years, died at Benedictine Hospital last night.

A committal prayer will be offered at the graveside in Artists' Memorial Cemetery, Woodstock, at 2 p. m. Friday with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd officiating.

Miss Henderson championed and supported numerous village projects during the course of her residence in Woodstock, including the Woodstock Elementary School, Civilian Defense programs during World War 2, the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, the Public Health Nursing Committee, the Woodstock Riding Club and the Woodstock Playhouse when it was built by Robert Elwyn.

Studies at Johns Hopkins

Born in Boston, in 1882, Miss Henderson was graduated from the nurses training school of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. Upon graduation she was offered the position of night supervisor of the hospital there, which she accepted. After leaving Johns Hopkins Hospital she took different executive jobs setting up hospitals in cities such as Pittsburgh and Toronto, Canada. Although a graduate nurse she has never done actual nursing, but has held executive positions in the field.

Before the United States entered World War 1, she was asked to take a unit of nurses from Johns Hopkins to establish a hospital in Pau, France. The group sailed on a Red Cross mercy ship in September, 1914, with Miss Henderson in charge with the rank of major.

Arrives in France

Since the ship had been manned by a German crew, they were prohibited from sailing by the British and French ambassadors in this country. The crew was removed from the vessel and replaced by a Negro crew, hastily obtained from a river boat. Before the German crew left the ship, they sabotaged the plumbing and some of the machinery. During the voyage the new crew mutinied, and at one point during the trip even a fire broke out. The hardy group of young nurses under Miss Henderson's guidance, withstood the trip and finally landed safely in France. Sailing under sealed orders, Miss Henderson did not know of her destination until the end of the voyage. Once at Pau, she was made superintendent of nurses at the hospital there for the French wounded.

When the United States entered World War 1, all Red Cross units were withdrawn and placed with the American Army. Miss Henderson then drove a truck, outfitted by a friend, for the American Fund for the French Wounded, established by Miss Anne Morgan. Each day, loaded with a different cargo, sometimes rabbits, or cows or even sewing machines, Miss Henderson drove to the villages, replacing food and other supplies urgently needed by the villagers after the Germans retreated.

Miss Henderson did not return to this country until 20 years after the close of World War 1. She received a decoration from the French Red Cross and the French Government for services rendered during the war. She was for many years a director of the American Training School for French Nurses in Bordeaux.

Settles in Woodstock

About 1930 she came to Woodstock and purchased a home in Byrdcliffe, the property now owned by Dr. Peretz Halpern. In 1934 she built the section of the stone house, Stonecrop on the Rock City Road, which she has shared with Miss Anita Smith since that time, returning frequently to France to spend a number of winters. She also owned a villa in Guethary in the Pyrenees mountains for a time.

Miss Henderson was one of the founders of the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee; she has worked with the Woodstock Riding Club extensively; and was a director and secretary of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen for many years. She has been active each year on some committee of the Woodstock Library Fair. She was also one of the organizers of France Forever in Ulster County.

During World War 2, under the Civil Defense program, she was in charge of housing for possible evacuees from New York, and also assisted Miss Smith in maintaining the Air Observation Post which was located on their property, and for which Miss Smith was director.

Loved Gardening

Of all of her activities, her friends believed she loved gardening the most, and she was a familiar figure working tirelessly in her garden from early spring until late fall. In her garden she was frequently host to very young neighbors who adored visiting her, and whose language she talked and always understood. One small neighbor had to spend Christmas visiting relatives, but she was nevertheless sure that she would come home Christmas night to find that Santa had left her stocking filled. In the rush of holiday preparations for the trip, her parents had completely forgotten to inform Santa to fill up her stocking anyway. The ride home with the tired little girl was a miserable one, knowing she would be disappointed. But Santa hadn't forgotten and a beautifully stuffed red stocking was hanging on the back door of the darkened house when they arrived. Probably no one was more surprised than Miss Henderson herself when she learned how she had restored the shattered equilibrium of a family on Christmas night.

She is survived by one brother, Silas Snow of Williamsburg, Mass. and three nephews.

Independent Truckers Stop Work on Thruway Near City

Independent trucking concerns hired for work on George M. Brewster Construction Company operations on the Thruway in the area stopped work yesterday when Teamsters Union pickets appeared on the projects.

The stoppage, which was continuing today, apparently came as a result of protests by four members of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, against a lay-off when Brewster discontinued using some of its own trucks and began to use independently operated trucks exclusively, according to information from one of the independent owners.

No Comment Made

Brewster company officials refused any comment on the situation. Inquiries were referred to a "Mr. Churchill" who refused to answer his extension and instructed the switchboard operator to say that he "doesn't care to make any statement."

Efforts to conduct a Donald Horton, said to be the shop steward who ordered the pickets at the jobs, also were unsuccessful.

Patsy Belsito of Lincoln Park road, a truck "broker," told a reporter in a conference in the office of Attorney Richard Overbagh this morning that he has supplied independent trucks for Brewster projects here for more than a year.

At one time, Brewster operated in addition several of its own trucks, hiring drivers who were Teamsters Union members. When these Brewster trucks were sent elsewhere, four drivers were laid off, Belsito said, and those drivers were the ones in whose behalf the pickets appeared.

Contracts With Belsito

The procedure in regard to the independent trucks, as explained by Belsito, is that Brewster contracts with Belsito to provide the trucks, at a stated rate per mile, depending upon the size of the truck.

Each night Brewster notifies Belsito of the number of trucks to be needed the next day—"anywhere from three to 51 or 52"—and Belsito then calls the various independent truckers until he has lined up a sufficient number.

Brewster pays Belsito in a lump sum, and he in turn pays the independent truck owners. Many of these independents are owner-operators, but those who in turn employ drivers pay those drivers. The difference in what Belsito receives from Brewster and what he pays the truck owners—amounting to 25 cents an hour per truck—is Belsito's commission for services and pays the expenses of telephoning, employment of a bookkeeper for payroll work and the like. The practice, it was pointed out, is not unusual and is similar to that of various agencies.

Unlike the present drivers, who are employed by the independent truck owners, the Local 445 members who are picketing the job, formerly worked directly as employes of the Brewster company. They are seeking reinstatement to their jobs as drivers on the project.

Belsito emphasized the fact that he himself employs no drivers, but contracts with the owners for the services of the trucks.

Girl, 9, Gives Fire Alarm In East Strand Apartment

Nine-year-old Kathryn Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey, of 56 East Strand, awoke in time early today to call her parents and prevent serious spread of a fire which broke out near the child's room in the Baileys' second-floor apartment.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said the fire, which apparently started in a hall outside the child's bedroom, damaged a door frame, small bed and clothing in the room. Its origin is undetermined.

Mrs. Bailey said her daughter came to her as soon as she awoke and noticed the fire. Mrs. Bailey called to her husband who went out immediately to sound the alarm.

Tried to Check Blaze

While Bailey was on the way to sound the alarm, Mrs. Bailey said, a man, who was just outside the building went inside and attempted to check the blaze. Chief Murphy said the man was identified as Joseph Berardi, but his address was unknown.

Men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations and Union and Cordts Hose companies responded to the alarm from Box 2331, East Strand and Ferry street, at 12:22 a. m. Deputy Fire Chief James Brett was also there with the chief.

The three-story brick building is owned by John Clarick. The first floor is occupied by the Thomas Galvin sign shop, the second by the Bailey family and the third is vacant, the chief said. Firemen were at the scene until 2:24 a. m. The sign shop on the first floor was not damaged.

The child's bedroom and kitchen of the Bailey apartment are directly off a hallway leading up to the third floor of the building.

Mr. Clarence Rowland

Dear Mr. Rowland

It was with deep regret that I learned of your decision to retire from the Board of Education of the City of Kingston upon the expiration of your present term, for business and personal reasons.

It has been my priviledge to know you a number of years and of your sincere interest in the children of the City of Kingston and the problem of their education. A number of articles were missing from the apartment, although the place was not ransacked. Police said lack of evidence of forced entry led them to believe Whitmarsh was slain by someone he knew.

Apartment Shared

Whitmarsh, secretary-treasurer of the American Economic Foundation at $8,000 a year, shared the 2½-room apartment with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Boggs, who both work for the General Electric Co. in Manhattan. They found his body when they returned home in the evening and they called police. The weapon which inflicted the face and chin wounds was not found in the apartment.

Articles missing from the apartment included a portable radio, a wire recorder, a gold ring with 23 diamonds, a woman's pearl and diamond ring, and a silver charm bracelet.

Fred G. Clark, president of the American Economic Foundation, said Whitmarsh had been with the organization since 1939. Clark described the foundation as a statistical concern which prepares financial reports for business firms.

Whitmarsh was a bachelor.

Thruway Section

state police said there were more than 2,000 persons at the spot by 7 a. m.

Among Guests

Among guests introduced were Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Thruway Authority Chairman Bertram D. Tallamy, Senate Finance Chairman Austin Erwin and Assembly Finance Chairman William Mackenzie.

Dewey praised Tallamy and John Burton, former state budget director, and said:

"I take no credit. All I did was pick the fellows and they did a most wonderful job."

In his main speech of the day, prepared for delivery at Syracuse, Dewey called the thruway a dream that became a magnificent reality to "shame the skeptics and those who scoffed."

He proposed "more such dreams" placed "in the same kind of competent hands."

The first motorist to pay his way across the double-ribbon, four-lane concrete highway will be Omero C. Catan of Teaneck, N. J., a collector of toll "firsts."

Gilligan Denies

nents a chance to oppose the move, he said.

He said that several days later he went to Albany again with a petition requesting a referendum. He described himself as an "errand boy" for those favoring annexation, defining the issue as "one of good education obtainable only at Onteora."

Cites 'Intimation'

He charged also that there was an "intimation" that in going about with the petitions "we misrepresented the financial background of the proposed consolidation between Bearsville and Woodstock."

Gilligan said the petitioners told taxpayers during the canvass that the consolidation law required that the newly consolidated district assume the bonded debt of both districts.

"The Bearsville District has a surplus in its treasury but the Woodstock District has a bond issue already out about a quarter of a million dollars, more or less, and its representatives went a few days ago to the State Department of Education to ask approval of another bond issue of at least $60,000. We explained that to our neighbors that if this second plan was approved the Woodstock District would have a total bond issue of well over $300,000. We saw no reason why Bearsville should be asked to assume this bond issue by consolidation."

MissHenderson,71, Dies in Hospital; Burial, Woodstock

Miss Alice Henderson, 71, a prominent resident of the village of Woodstock for 20 years, died at Benedictine Hospital last night.

A committal prayer will be offered at the graveside in Artists' Memorial Cemetery, Woodstock, at 2 p. m. Friday with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd officiating.

Miss Henderson championed and supported numerous village projects during the course of her residence in Woodstock, including the Woodstock Elementary School, Civilian Defense programs during World War 2, the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, the Public Health Nursing Committee, the Woodstock Riding Club and the Woodstock Playhouse when it was built by Robert Elwyn.

Studies at Johns Hopkins

Born in Boston, in 1882, Miss Henderson was graduated from the nurses training school of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. Upon graduation she was offered the position of night supervisor of the hospital there, which she accepted. After leaving Johns Hopkins Hospital she took different executive jobs setting up hospitals in cities such as Pittsburgh and Toronto, Canada. Although a graduate nurse she has never done actual nursing, but has held executive positions in the field.

Before the United States entered World War 1, she was asked to take a unit of nurses from Johns Hopkins to establish a hospital in Pau, France. The group sailed on a Red Cross mercy ship in September, 1914, with Miss Henderson in charge with the rank of major.

Arrives in France

Since the ship had been manned by a German crew, they were prohibited from sailing by the British and French ambassadors in this country. The crew was removed from the vessel and replaced by a Negro crew, hastily obtained from a river boat. Before the German crew left the ship, they sabotaged the plumbing and some of the machinery. During the voyage the new crew mutinied, and at one point during the trip even a fire broke out. The hardy group of young nurses under Miss Henderson's guidance, withstood the trip and finally landed safely in France. Sailing under sealed orders, Miss Henderson did not know of her destination until the end of the voyage. Once at Pau, she was made superintendent of nurses at the hospital there for the French wounded.

When the United States entered World War 1, all Red Cross units were withdrawn and placed with the American Army. Miss Henderson then drove a truck, outfitted by a friend, for the American Fund for the French Wounded, established by Miss Anne Morgan. Each day, loaded with a different cargo, sometimes rabbits, or cows or even sewing machines, Miss Henderson drove to the villages, replacing food and other supplies urgently needed by the villagers after the Germans retreated.

Miss Henderson did not return to this country until 20 years after the close of World War 1. She received a decoration from the French Red Cross and the French Government for services rendered during the war. She was for many years a director of the American Training School for French Nurses in Bordeaux.

Settles in Woodstock

About 1930 she came to Woodstock and purchased a home in Byrdcliffe, the property now owned by Dr. Peretz Halpern. In 1934 she built the section of the stone house, Stonecrop on the Rock City Road, which she has shared with Miss Anita Smith since that time, returning frequently to France to spend a number of winters. She also owned a villa in Guethary in the Pyrenees mountains for a time.

Miss Henderson was one of the founders of the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee; she has worked with the Woodstock Riding Club extensively; and was a director and secretary of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen for many years. She has been active each year on some committee of the Woodstock Library Fair. She was also one of the organizers of France Forever in Ulster County.

During World War 2, under the Civil Defense program, she was in charge of housing for possible evacuees from New York, and also assisted Miss Smith in maintaining the Air Observation Post which was located on their property, and for which Miss Smith was director.

Loved Gardening

Of all of her activities, her friends believed she loved gardening the most, and she was a familiar figure working tirelessly in her garden from early spring until late fall. In her garden she was frequently host to very young neighbors who adored visiting her, and whose language she talked and always understood. One small neighbor had to spend Christmas visiting relatives, but she was nevertheless sure that she would come home Christmas night to find that Santa had left her stocking filled. In the rush of holiday preparations for the trip, her parents had completely forgotten to inform Santa to fill up her stocking anyway. The ride home with the tired little girl was a miserable one, knowing she would be disappointed. But Santa hadn't forgotten and a beautifully stuffed red stocking was hanging on the back door of the darkened house when they arrived. Probably no one was more surprised than Miss Henderson herself when she learned how she had restored the shattered equilibrium of a family on Christmas night.

She is survived by one brother, Silas Snow of Williamsburg, Mass. and three nephews.

Independent Truckers Stop Work on Thruway Near City

Independent trucking concerns hired for work on George M. Brewster Construction Company operations on the Thruway in the area stopped work yesterday when Teamsters Union pickets appeared on the projects.

The stoppage, which was continuing today, apparently came as a result of protests by four members of Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, against a lay-off when Brewster discontinued using some of its own trucks and began to use independently operated trucks exclusively, according to information from one of the independent owners.

No Comment Made

Brewster company officials refused any comment on the situation. Inquiries were referred to a "Mr. Churchill" who refused to answer his extension and instructed the switchboard operator to say that he "doesn't care to make any statement."

Efforts to conduct a Donald Horton, said to be the shop steward who ordered the pickets at the jobs, also were unsuccessful.

Patsy Belsito of Lincoln Park road, a truck "broker," told a reporter in a conference in the office of Attorney Richard Overbagh this morning that he has supplied independent trucks for Brewster projects here for more than a year.

At one time, Brewster operated in addition several of its own trucks, hiring drivers who were Teamsters Union members. When these Brewster trucks were sent elsewhere, four drivers were laid off, Belsito said, and those drivers were the ones in whose behalf the pickets appeared.

Contracts With Belsito

The procedure in regard to the independent trucks, as explained by Belsito, is that Brewster contracts with Belsito to provide the trucks, at a stated rate per mile, depending upon the size of the truck.

Each night Brewster notifies Belsito of the number of trucks to be needed the next day—"anywhere from three to 51 or 52"—and Belsito then calls the various independent truckers until he has lined up a sufficient number.

Brewster pays Belsito in a lump sum, and he in turn pays the independent truck owners. Many of these independents are owner-operators, but those who in turn employ drivers pay those drivers. The difference in what Belsito receives from Brewster and what he pays the truck owners—amounting to 25 cents an hour per truck—is Belsito's commission for services and pays the expenses of telephoning, employment of a bookkeeper for payroll work and the like. The practice, it was pointed out, is not unusual and is similar to that of various agencies.

Unlike the present drivers, who are employed by the independent truck owners, the Local 445 members who are picketing the job, formerly worked directly as employes of the Brewster company. They are seeking reinstatement to their jobs as drivers on the project.

Belsito emphasized the fact that he himself employs no drivers, but contracts with the owners for the services of the trucks.

Girl, 9, Gives Fire Alarm In East Strand Apartment

Nine-year-old Kathryn Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey, of 56 East Strand, awoke in time early today to call her parents and prevent serious spread of a fire which broke out near the child's room in the Baileys' second-floor apartment.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said the fire, which apparently started in a hall outside the child's bedroom, damaged a door frame, small bed and clothing in the room. Its origin is undetermined.

Mrs. Bailey said her daughter came to her as soon as she awoke and noticed the fire. Mrs. Bailey called to her husband who went out immediately to sound the alarm.

Tried to Check Blaze

While Bailey was on the way to sound the alarm, Mrs. Bailey said, a man, who was just outside the building went inside and attempted to check the blaze. Chief Murphy said the man was identified as Joseph Berardi, but his address was unknown.

Men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations and Union and Cordts Hose companies responded to the alarm from Box 2331, East Strand and Ferry street, at 12:22 a. m. Deputy Fire Chief James Brett was also there with the chief.

The three-story brick building is owned by John Clarick. The first floor is occupied by the Thomas Galvin sign shop, the second by the Bailey family and the third is vacant, the chief said. Firemen were at the scene until 2:24 a. m. The sign shop on the first floor was not damaged.

The child's bedroom and kitchen of the Bailey apartment are directly off a hallway leading up to the third floor of the building.

Belanca Is Hurt On Thruway Job

Joseph Belanca, 56, of 77 Foxhall avenue, was reported injured this morning when he was struck by a boom while at work for the John Arborio Construction Co., of Poughkeepsie on the N. Y. State Thruway in the Rosendale area.

He was admitted to Kingston Hospital at 10:30 a. m., a spokesman for Arborio said Balanca suffered injuries of the head and a shoulder when he was struck a glazing blow by a boom as it was being lowered. His condition was reported as "fair" this afternoon.

Hearing Scheduled

Albany, June 24 (AP)—Gov. Dewey today scheduled a clemency hearing July 1 for three men who are under death sentence for the holdup-killing of a Reader's Digest messenger. Harry A. Stein, 55, Calman Cooper, 46, and Nathan Wissner, 42, had been scheduled to die in Sing Sing's electric chair the week of July 5, but Judge Stanley H. Fuld of the Court of Appeals has signed a stay of execution so the condemned may appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Mayor Stang's letter to Commissioner Rowland:

Mr. Clarence Rowland
108 Spring Street
Kingston

Dear Mr. Rowland

It was with deep regret that I learned of your decision to retire from the Board of Education of the City of Kingston upon the expiration of your present term, for business and personal reasons.

It has been my priviledge to know you a number of years and of your sincere interest in the children of the City of Kingston and the problem of their education. I feel that I voice the sentiments of the people of this city when I say that we are sorry we shall not have the benefit of your counsel but we have been fortunate in having your advice over the years. Your record of public service is certainly appreciated by all.

Again my thanks and with best wishes for your continued good health, I am cling the man's neck, connected with an electric cord binding his hands in the back. He had suffered several powerful blows in the face and there were two deep gashes under his chin.

Very truly yours

A number of articles were missing from the apartment, although the place was not ransacked. Police said lack of evidence of forced entry led them to believe Whitmarsh was slain by someone he knew.

Apartment Shared

Whitmarsh, secretary-treasurer of the American Economic Foundation at $8,000 a year, shared the 2½-room apartment with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Boggs, who both work for the General Electric Co. in Manhattan. They found his body when they returned home in the evening and they called police. The weapon which inflicted the face and chin wounds was not found in the apartment.

Articles missing from the apartment included a portable radio, a wire recorder, a gold ring with 23 diamonds, a woman's pearl and diamond ring, and a silver charm bracelet.

Fred G. Clark, president of the American Economic Foundation, said Whitmarsh had been with the organization since 1939. Clark described the foundation as a statistical concern which prepares financial reports for business firms.

Whitmarsh was a bachelor.

Thruway Section

state police said there were more than 2,000 persons at the spot by 7 a. m.

Among Guests

Among guests introduced were Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Thruway Authority Chairman Bertram D. Tallamy, Senate Finance Chairman Austin Erwin and Assembly Finance Chairman William Mackenzie.

Dewey praised Tallamy and John Burton, former state budget director, and said:

"I take no credit. All I did was pick the fellows and they did a most wonderful job."

In his main speech of the day, prepared for delivery at Syracuse, Dewey called the thruway a dream that became a magnificent reality to "shame the skeptics and those who scoffed."

He proposed "more such dreams" placed "in the same kind of competent hands."

The first motorist to pay his way across the double-ribbon, four-lane concrete highway will be Omero C. Catan of Teaneck, N. J., a collector of toll "firsts."

Gilligan Denies

nents a chance to oppose the move, he said.

He said that several days later he went to Albany again with a petition requesting a referendum. He described himself as an "errand boy" for those favoring annexation, defining the issue as "one of good education obtainable only at Onteora."

Cites 'Intimation'

He charged also that there was an "intimation" that in going about with the petitions "we misrepresented the financial background of the proposed consolidation between Bearsville and Woodstock."

Gilligan said the petitioners told taxpayers during the canvass that the consolidation law required that the newly consolidated district assume the bonded debt of both districts.

"The Bearsville District has a surplus in its treasury but the Woodstock District has a bond issue already out about a quarter of a million dollars, more or less, and its representatives went a few days ago to the State Department of Education to ask approval of another bond issue of at least $60,000. We explained that to our neighbors that if this second plan was approved the Woodstock District would have a total bond issue of well over $300,000. We saw no reason why Bearsville should be asked to assume this bond issue by consolidation."

Gilligan Denies

school." Even if the district voted to centralize it would still decide whether to keep open the school or not.

"The voters have complete control. They can close it or keep it open, as they wish."

Pine Hill Operating

He pointed out that the Pine Hill School was still operating, although that district had been annexed to the Onteora Central School. Taxes are paid to the Onteora Central School District which, in turn, provides for the operation of the Pine Hill School, Gilligan said.

He explained that parents of children in the Bearsville School would be privileged to decide at what age they wanted their children to go to Onteora. "If they think seven is too early, then those eight, nine or 10 would take the bus," he pointed out.

Seeks 1954-55 Teacher

He said Mrs. Lawrence Shultis, a Bearsville School trustee, was now engaged in negotiations with District Superintendent Reginald Bennett, for the engagement of a teacher for the local school for the year 1954-55.

Gilligan said he went to Albany with a petition carrying "well over 200 names" asking the State Commissioner of Education to order annexation to the Onteora District. After the petition is filed the commissioner can receive from opponents of centralization a counter-petition giving the oppo-

Tank Tips

Detroit (AP)—A full tank will lose some gasoline on curves and bumps and, on a hot day, will lose some by expansion says L. M. van Noppen, an official of an auto finance firm. Even worse, he says, is an almost empty fuel tank. This brings higher evaporation losses. The tank also will contain moist air which will condense and leave water in the tank. Running out of gas can damage the fuel system. The last dregs of gas will take accumulated tank sediments into the system and can lead to an expensive cleaning job.

Warns Korean Vets Of GI Bill Deadline

Saugerties, June 23—Bernard E. McCutcheon, commander of the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has issued a warning to all Korean veterans that the GI Training Bill deadline is in August.

Post-Korea veterans who were released from military service before August 20, 1952, must make immediate plans if they intend to enroll in Korean GI Bill training before the fast-approaching deadline.

The law states that these veterans actually must begin training before August 20 in order to be eligible for further training. This means that summer terms in school will be the last opportunity for many veterans to start Korean GI training. Enrollment for the fall school term would be too late.

When a veteran has made the decision to train under the GI Bill he must choose the school and course and then must make certain that the course is GI approved. Local information on these points may be secured from John J. Wood, Sr., service officer of the VFW Post, or Commander McCutcheon.

For those veterans requiring VA counseling to help them decide on an objective and a training program immediate action must be taken in order to meet the deadline which applies to veterans planning to take on-the-job and on-the-farm training as well as those going to school.

This deadline applies only to veterans who have left the service on or before August 20, 1952. Veterans separated after that date have two years from the date of separation in which to begin training.

Lutherans Will Open Church School Monday

Saugerties, June 23 — The Vacation Church School of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp will be held for two weeks beginning Monday, June 28. No class will be held Monday, July 5 due to the holiday observance.

Classes will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Monday to Friday and all children between the ages of 3 to 12 are invited to participate in the worship, songs and hand work projects.

The new Sunday school slide projector will be used four mornings in the worship. Slides relative to the lesson for the day will be shown. On the other mornings sound motion pictures will be used to aid in the teaching.

The staff of teachers includes Mrs. John Prendergast, Mrs. Harry Moose, Mrs. Daniel Wynne, Mrs. Catherine Finch, and the Rev. Henry M. Schumann, pastor of the church.

The classes which will be held in the upstairs Parish Hall and the Pine Rooms will again be under the sponsorship of the two Ladies' Auxiliary groups of the church.

Staff assistants are Gretchen Coons, Kay Moose and Joyce Patterson.

24 Donate to Bank At Village Drawing

Saugerties, June 22 — Twenty-nine people presented themselves as donors at the VFW Blood Bank drawing Thursday evening at the VFW Hall. Of these, 24 were accepted.

To comply with a request from the state medical authorities Dr. Ludwig Neimanis volunteered to serve as physician in attendance for the evening. Miss Kay Wiseman, RN, and Lionel Harrington, laboratory technician, were in charge of arrangements for the drawing.

Mrs. Philip Breithaupt, Sr., chairman, said that 16 of the donors attending were replacing blood drawn by friends or relatives through local facilities. The Couples Club of Atonement Lutheran Church was another group that attended in a unit.

Mrs. John Prendergast, president of the VFW Auxiliary, was in charge of refreshments. Other committee members of the post and auxiliary who served at this drawing included Helen Arold, Sr., Evelyn Arold, Charles Arold, Jr., Robert Hommel, Lillian Jaczienowski, Marie M. McCutcheon, Sara Overbaugh, Ethelda Shader, Mrs. Sadie Wiseman, Mrs. John J. Woods, Sr., Margaret Wright and Mrs. Philip Breithaupt, Sr., chairman of the blood bank.

Rice Announces Plans For Fourth of July

Saugerties, June 21—Plans for activities covering the entire day were announced by Donald G. Rice, chairman of the July Fourth Observance which will be co-sponsored by the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the local Chamber of Commerce.

To improve the quantity and quality of the floats for this year's event a special award of $100 will be given for the float voted best. Rice said that all organizations that participated in last year's parade were contacted by mail and that special entry blanks are in circulation and should be filled in and returned to Mrs. John J. Wood, Sr., Market street, not later than Monday, June 28.

The marshals announced for this year are John Utter and John J. Wood, Sr.

Co-sponsorship this year has been arranged in order that the Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of David Halpert and Robert Shapiro handle the finances of the observance and all other arrangements are controlled by the local VFW Post.

The local Chamber has initiated the campaign to raise $1000 for the local observance and letters of solicitation were mailed this past week. The letters requested voluntary contributions to finance the community-wide project to be held on Monday, July 5.

Among the activities for the day, special services are planned following the parade. A baseball game is scheduled between the Saugerties Baseball Club and Oneonta at 2 p. m. at Cantine Memorial Field. A twilight game is also planned in which the Little League will participate and in the evening a huge block party will be held.

Those received by the Sacrament of Holy Baptism included Robert Calvin Valk, David Emmanuel Drescher, Gerhard Fischer, Gisela Monika Hiller, Jeffrey Jay Liesendahl, Charles Walter Winchell and Marlene Kay Zeigler.

During the program 21 children of the Sunday school received new copies of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible as an award for faithful attendance at Sunday school for 10 consecutive Sundays. The new Bibles were purchased from the proceeds of a taffy sale conducted by the children under the direction of Vernon Asher.

Those earning Bibles were Elinor Pysher, Elinor Moose, Moira Altevogt, Gretchen Coons, Gene Hommell, Kay Moose, Joyce Patterson, Lois Patterson, Carol Ann Pyscher, Helen Cross, Geraldine Di Simone, Jean DuBois, Sharron Patterson, Paul Pysher, Janet Schlenker, Larry Schlenker, Mary Smith, Sandra Smith, Claudia Schumann, Robert West and Shirley Winchell.

The service was conducted by the children of the Sunday school with the assistance of the pastor, the Rev. Henry M. Schumann.

Bible School Planned

Saugerties, June 22—The Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church of Saugerties will begin classes on Monday, June 28.

Sessions are held each morning from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and will extend for two weeks. A staff of outstanding teachers will be present to give instruction and guidance.

Children between the ages of three and 11 are invited to attend to participate in the songs and projects.

Tax Boost Speeds Pay

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—Harrisburg citizens apparently are more willing to pay a $10 city per capita and residence tax than a $5 levy. The city treasurer reports that the percentage of residents paying their taxes early has risen steadily over the years. Even though the total tax was recently doubled the number of people paying the first two months was up slightly.

Rice Announces Plans For Fourth of July

Saugerties, June 21—Plans for activities covering the entire day were announced by Donald G. Rice, chairman of the July Fourth Observance which will be co-sponsored by the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the local Chamber of Commerce.

The marshals announced for this year are John Utter and John J. Wood, Sr.

Tax Boost Speeds Pay

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—Harrisburg citizens apparently are more willing to pay a $10 city per capita and residence tax than a $5 levy. The city treasurer reports that the percentage of residents paying their taxes early has risen steadily over the years. Even though the total tax was recently doubled the number of people paying the first two months was up slightly.

Moroccans Insist Foreign Influence Part of Terror

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Rabat, French Morocco, (AP)—"Some day some of you Americans might get killed here. When that happens, please—please do not lose your heads."

These words came to me from a highy placed person in Morocco who must otherwise remain unidentified.

I asked him to elaborate. He replied with a shrug and the remark: "There are forces here who want you to lose your heads."

This informant was one of many who insist there is much foreign influence in the creeping terror in North Africa, an area which has come to be of strategic importance to western defense.

Killings Are Commonplace

Daily killings of French and Moroccans are commonplace now. The objective of the teror—whether the influence comes from local extremists, nationalists, Arab League propaganda, Moscow agents or from all these sources—is the same in the French view. It is to keep France off balance in the area and render it unstable.

Leaving aside the justice or unreasonablenes of nationalist aspirations, instability in North Africa has grave meaning for the United States and her allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. What if North Africa, and particularly Morocco, should blow up in internal strife? There might be little choice eventually for the United States but to abandon the important air bases built here under agreement with the French.

Blow to Get Out

As of today, it would be a great blow to have to get out. Perhaps it would not be such a blow in five or ten years, when long range operations could take over, but five or ten years is a long time in today's world.

The United States, in cooperation with the French, has three bases completed and one nearly completed and already operational in Morocco, at a cost of more than 300 million dollars. The bases were begun shortly after the Korean war exploded. The French permitted 7,500 Americans to be based permanently in Morocco to run the installations. Almost are skilled personnel.

Present plans call for five bases in Spain to complement the North African program. This will make up a great single defense complex—a deterrent to any overt aggressive move by Moscow. There are an inner ring of bases in North Africa, England, Spain and Turkey and an outer ring forged by Iceland, Greenland and the Pacific area.

Kings Are Formidable

American experts say these rings are so formidable Moscow must keep its air force at 50 per cent fighters to offset the bomber threat. The more bases the west has, the more freedom of action it has in time of war, from the standpoint of choosing places from which to attack. The more bases the west has, the more Moscow's air defense problems increase, the more its defenses must be dispersed.

For example, an American officer said, the USSR is estimated to have about 20,000 battle-ready aircraft. The west in Europe has only 5,000. But if Moscow were to throw massed air strength against Europe, it would be vulnerable from other points in the ring of bases.

Loss of Morocco would make a strategic bomber counter-offensive that much more difficult. It would mean loss of an area within easy striking distance of strategic targets, an area whose weather permits takeoffs all but 17 days a year.

Have Brought Frictions

The bases have brought frictions with them. Americans pay good wages to Moroccans to get work done well and quickly. They teach Moroccans how to use heavy machinery, make them expert in many skills. This annoys many of the French, particularly the colonists, who insist this is "spoiling" the Moroccan pocets, say many of the French, upsets the country's economy.

There are frictions with the Nationalists, too, still brooding about the American stand in favor of the French and against them when the question of examining the Nationalists' demands came up in the United Nations.

Communists are outlawed both in Tunis and Morocco, but there is a hard core of 500 Moroccan Communists, built up by French Reds with the help of France's Communist-dominated labor federation.

Is Called 'Majesty'

Obviously under orders from outside the Communist party of Morocco has become supernationalist—more than that, monarchist—in its attempts to woo and infiltrate the nationalist movement. It refers to "His Majesty" Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, whose ouster by the French nine months ago is the issue which most stirs Morocco today.

The Communists play constantly on an anti-American theme, trying to whip up local and nationalist sentiment against the United States. During one French police action against terrorists, the Communists spread word through Casablanca's native quarter that the entire area was surrounded by U. S. tanks.

They have leaned heavily on the theme of the American stand in the United Nations with regard to nationalist aspirations, and this finds an audience among nationalists who otherwise disavow and reject Red ties.

Intelligent Moroccan leaders realize the Communists, under Secretary Ali Yata, are trying to infiltrate their ranks. Yet the day may come when, after long irritations and terror, alliances of opportunity may lure some of the more extreme elements. And Communists are schooled in terror. It is not beyond possibility that they might arrange the well-timed killing of Americans.

Mouths Give Trouble

Des Moines (AP)—Tooth disease is more widespread than any other ailment of mankind except the common cold, Dr. Leslie M. FitzGerald, Dubuque, Iowa, president of the American Dental Assn., says. He estimates it would take 280 million fillings to fix all the cavities of children 6 to 18 years old in the United States and that 97 per cent of the population suffers from some form of tooth decay or gum disease.

Miser Will Land Behind Eight Ball

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"You have to give a little to get a little," said Generous George expansively. He was quite right, for a miserly bridge player would never succeed in making the game on today's hand.

West led three top spades, and George ruffed the third spade with the ace of trumps. This was slightly showy, but it was quite necessary for George to ruff with one of the honors.

If declarer now plays the hand in routine style, he will wind up losing two diamonds as well as the two spades that were taken by West at the very beginning. Do you see the correct line of play? Put yourself in Generous George's place, and you will have no trouble in discovering the correct line of play.

After George had ruffed the third spade with the ace of trumps he laid down the ace of clubs. He next led one of his low trumps toward dummy.

East could win a trump trick with the nine — quite unexpectedly. When East returned a diamond, South put up the ace and entered dummy by leading a low trump to the eight. Now he could cash the king and queen of clubs, discarding the losing diamonds from his hand.

Perhaps it wasn't great generosity to give up one trump trick in order to get two club tricks in exchange. Nevertheless, as George would point out, you must have generous instincts in order to find such unusual plays.

To the Rescue!

Greenville, S. C. (AP)—A telephone operator called the police and said there was a woman on the line calling for help. Officers listened in, agreed it sounded bad. Four patrolmen sped to the address and found all doors locked. Entrance was gained with a pass key. They found a drunk woman in bed with the telephone receiver off the hook. She said she was all right but wondered if the officers would get her a glass of water. They did.

Why the Fuss?

Minneapolis (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ross, neighbors, seven police squad cars, civilian defense volunteers and a tracking dog were unable to find Timothy Ross, 5, and his brother, Terrence, 6, after they left home to play. The boys returned nonchalantly the next morning after falling asleep in a shed a half block from home.

"You have to give a little to get a little," said Generous George expansively. He was quite right, for a miserly bridge player would never succeed in making the game on today's hand.

West led three top spades, and George ruffed the third spade with the ace of trumps. This was slightly showy, but it was quite necessary for George to ruff with one of the honors.

If declarer now plays the hand in routine style, he will wind up losing two diamonds as well as the two spades that were taken by West at the very beginning. Do you see the correct line of play? Put yourself in Generous George's place, and you will have no trouble in discovering the correct line of play.

After George had ruffed the third spade with the ace of trumps he laid down the ace of clubs. He next led one of his low trumps toward dummy.

East could win a trump trick with the nine — quite unexpectedly. When East returned a diamond, South put up the ace and entered dummy by leading a low trump to the eight. Now he could cash the king and queen of clubs, discarding the losing diamonds from his hand.

Perhaps it wasn't great generosity to give up one trump trick in order to get two club tricks in exchange. Nevertheless, as George would point out, you must have generous instincts in order to find such unusual plays.

To the Rescue!

Greenville, S. C. (AP)—A telephone operator called the police and said there was a woman on the line calling for help. Officers listened in, agreed it sounded bad. Four patrolmen sped to the address and found all doors locked. Entrance was gained with a pass key. They found a drunk woman in bed with the telephone receiver off the hook. She said she was all right but wondered if the officers would get her a glass of water. They did.

Why the Fuss?

Minneapolis (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ross, neighbors, seven police squad cars, civilian defense volunteers and a tracking dog were unable to find Timothy Ross, 5, and his brother, Terrence, 6, after they left home to play. The boys returned nonchalantly the next morning after falling asleep in a shed a half block from home.

Butter-type cakes are ready to come out of the oven when a finger-tip pressed lightly on the surface of the cake leaves no imprint. Another way to tell whether the cake is done is to insert a wire cake tester or toothpick in the center; if the tester come out without any cake particles sticking to it, your dessert is ready to be cooled.

BPW Sick-Time Proposal Is Left With Committee

A proposal to change the method of computing sick-leave time for employes of the Board of Public Works was left with a BPW committee at a meeting of the board yesterday.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang, as president of the board named Commissioners Kenneth Hyatt and David Schechter to consider the proposal and report back at the board's next regular meeting.

A letter from James P. Martin, president of the Ulster County Chapter, Civil Service Employes Association, explained that in order for BPW employes to gain 10 days sick leave they must work for Jan. 1 to Jan. 1, for the year that would make them eligible for the leave.

This was unfair, he contended, because few men are employed at the beginning of the year, and if an employe started on March 1, he would have to work 10 months to the following January, "before he starts to gain sick-leave credit, and a full 22 months later, he would be credited with 10 days."

The association requested a change in the method of computing the leave, and thought it would be fair to start crediting an employe from the day on which he starts work and list him for 10 days sick-leave one year later.

A letter from the Parent-Teacher Organization of the George Washington School, thanking the BPW for its cooperation in supplying traffic signals and "otherwise eliminating the traffic problems which worried many parents and teachers until this past winter," was read, received with appreciative comment by Mayor Stang, and filed.

Approval Is Granted

The board approved temporary appointment of eight young men as engineers' aides, grade 1. They are John Netter, 111 Andrew street; John G. Salapatis, 87 Orchard street; Harold S. Monashefsky, 43 Roosevelt avenue; Robert A. Boyle, 168 Highland avenue; George J. Young, 153 Elmendorf street; Paul F. Stang, 111 Madison avenue; John W. Cullum, 75 Marius street and Conrad I. Heisman, 1 Jefferson Place.

Playground supervisors approved were: Bernard Redmond, John Gilligan, Jeanne Carpenter, Jane Gunter, Marcia Levine, Betsy Rigby, Ann Marie Roach, Sally Sherman, Helen Taylor, Helen Cahill, Emily Flowers, Maura Newman, Maxine Adner, Betty Ann Hyatt, Mary Cassidy, Annalouise Palisi, Joseph Gardner, Evelyn Zelickman, Marilyn Gadd, and Ellen Netter.

The board approved the moving of light and pole on Emerson street for about 20 feet toward Main street because of interference with a driveway, and it approved another light change on Washington avenue.

A full board composed of Commissioners Kenneth Hyatt, Raymond L. Whitbeck, Charles O. Davis and David Schechter, attended. City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan and Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, and A. Foster Winfield, assistant secretary, also attended.

He Was Ready

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP) — Asked how he pleaded to a gaming charge, the defendant replied: "Not Guilty. I was just getting ready to join the game, but the police arrived before I did." City Judge Charles Kelly dismissed the case.

of the world. Dulles is said to feel this government must appear to the world as a champion of freedom and independence.

Specifically, the secretary has been reported as interested in having the British come to some agreement with the Egyptian government over defense of the Suez Canal, long a thorny London-Cairo issue.

British diplomats in Washington heard that Dulles discussed what he considers to be the colonialism problem at a private meeting with some newsmen about a week ago. "It is a fair guess that if Dulles does not bring up the issues himself, Churchill or Eden very likely will do so."

New Hurley

New Hurley, June 23 — On Thursday afternoon the annual June tea was held in the New Hurley Church with about 100 ladies from the neighboring communities attending. A very pleasing program had been arranged by the president of the society, Mrs. John W. Tysse. Mrs. Wallace Palen sang a solo One Sweetly Solemn Thought with Mrs. James Wilkin at the organ, and the junior choir sang with Mrs. Fred Almack accompanying them. The address given by Miss Beth Marcus, associate secretary of the Domestic Mission Board, was very interesting. At the close of the program the refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. Duane Dolan, Mrs. Bertha Powell and Mrs. Wilbur J. Van Wyck served homemade cake and iced tea to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Wilkin attended his 40th class reunion at Cornell University last week.

Lucille Tysse who is attending Hope College, Holland, Mich., is spending her summer vacation at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John W. Tysse.

Wright Lent, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lent of New Paltz, spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Denniston and family.

Mary Lou Schoonmaker, who is attending Syracuse University, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker.

Miss Bertha Sutton spent Saturday at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Sutton near Walden.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered in the church on Sunday, July 4. New members will be received. An invitation to unite with the church is extended.

Why We Say--

Our measure of land, the acre, started as merely meaning a field. When it was decided that some permanent area measurement should be made, King Edward I of England had a team of oxen plow a field in one day. This field was then measured and its 4840 square yards called one acre.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

The Ruminator's mail is most interesting these days. One correspondent wrote that I am a brave man to venture into the field of politics in columns such as these. However, I do not see how it is possible to omit socio-political comments when it is so evident that politics today are immensely influential upon our economic and social trends.

The reason, of course, why it is safer to pass over the political side-show and to pretend that it has no part in economic writing is because when you get into politics you get into personalties. And when you get into personalities you get under peaple's skins.

Nevertheless, the socio-economic trend will follow the political trend. You can not, therefore, ignore the latter, whether you step on someone's corns or not.

Take the recent Army-McCarthy hearings (which, praise be, are over insofar as the television spectable is concerned). Behind it all lies, in my view, a death struggle between what are loosely called the eastern and western wings of the Republican party. Or, to express it another way, the Taft versus the Dewey-Sherman Adams, Brownell-Lodge - Flanders groups. Inasmch as Joe McCarthy is a conspicuous and noisy representative of the form Taft elements of the Republican party, he is naturally a target in the present struggle.

It does not make the slightest difference whether you and I like or dislike McCarthy, approve or disapprove of him, the fact remains this is the struggle for political power within the Republican party. You can get emotionally stirred up by the television brawl, but that does not change the political picture.

Moreover—and here is the point—we are witnessing a significant struggle from the standpoint of economics (and your future pocketbook) because it is obvious the "eastern wing" is far more liberal in its socio-economic views than their Republican "opponents" in the mid-west.

How, then, are we going to avoid political discussions, if we are going to measure both general and contrary opinions concerning coming trends?

Politics arouses emotions whereas economics is dull and deadening as a rule.

Accordingly, we shall be able occasionally to estimate the drift of opinions because of the emotions that have been stirred up over some political occurrence.

Consider the present sentiment over the recent hearings. Many people in the east, as well as I can judge, cannot express too much distaste for Joe McCarthy and his actions during the hearings. Out in the mid-west, on the other hand, Joe seems to have gained rather than lost in recent weeks. A poll being conducted by the Chicago Tribune shows an overwhelming "vote" for McCarthy as against Secretary Stevens, following their television show.

It would be interesting if a poll could be organized in the northeast in order to learn not only where Senator McCarthy stands in people's regard but also whether the majority approves of Vermont Senator Flanders' all-out war on McCarthy, which means (if I interpret it correctly) a fight for supremacy for the liberal, eastern group of Republicans. My guess, from talking to Vermonters, and from letters received, is that the elderly junior senator from Vermont has not made himself very popular with his speeches and resolution against the Wisconsin Commie-hunter.

It is perhaps a good thing that Churchill and Eden are coming over here this week—if for no other reason that it will remove from our newspaper headlines the publicity-seeking politicians.

Certainly, however, when you consider the Communist uprisings throughout the world and in our own neighboring countries it does not appear to be a good time to let down our guard on Communist infiltration in our own nation. The Babson organization has just done a serviceable job for Americans by reporting in their Washington "letter" a complete story of the Communists' program in the United States. It is a published pamphlet titled (deceptively titled," as Babson comments) "The American Way to Jobs, Peace, and Democracy." As Babson says, it is a "Red blueprint for 'socializing' the United States." And yet millions of our people apparently feel we should let down and not be so wrought up about the danger from communism. I think the Ruminator will remain on McCarthy's side although his manner is at times irritating.

New Hurley

New Hurley, June 23 — On Thursday afternoon the annual June tea was held in the New Hurley Church with about 100 ladies from the neighboring communities attending. A very pleasing program had been arranged by the president of the society, Mrs. John W. Tysse. Mrs. Wallace Palen sang a solo One Sweetly Solemn Thought with Mrs. James Wilkin at the organ, and the junior choir sang with Mrs. Fred Almack accompanying them. The address given by Miss Beth Marcus, associate secretary of the Domestic Mission Board, was very interesting. At the close of the program the refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. Duane Dolan, Mrs. Bertha Powell and Mrs. Wilbur J. Van Wyck served homemade cake and iced tea to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Wilkin attended his 40th class reunion at Cornell University last week.

Lucille Tysse who is attending Hope College, Holland, Mich., is spending her summer vacation at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John W. Tysse.

Wright Lent, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lent of New Paltz, spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Denniston and family.

Mary Lou Schoonmaker, who is attending Syracuse University, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker.

Miss Bertha Sutton spent Saturday at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Sutton near Walden.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered in the church on Sunday, July 4. New members will be received. An invitation to unite with the church is extended.

Why We Say--

Our measure of land, the acre, started as merely meaning a field. When it was decided that some permanent area measurement should be made, King Edward I of England had a team of oxen plow a field in one day. This field was then measured and its 4840 square yards called one acre.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

The Ruminator's mail is most interesting these days. One correspondent wrote that I am a brave man to venture into the field of politics in columns such as these. However, I do not see how it is possible to omit socio-political comments when it is so evident that politics today are immensely influential upon our economic and social trends.

The reason, of course, why it is safer to pass over the political side-show and to pretend that it has no part in economic writing is because when you get into politics you get into personalties. And when you get into personalities you get under peaple's skins.

Nevertheless, the socio-economic trend will follow the political trend. You can not, therefore, ignore the latter, whether you step on someone's corns or not.

Take the recent Army-McCarthy hearings (which, praise be, are over insofar as the television spectable is concerned). Behind it all lies, in my view, a death struggle between what are loosely called the eastern and western wings of the Republican party. Or, to express it another way, the Taft versus the Dewey-Sherman Adams, Brownell-Lodge - Flanders groups. Inasmch as Joe McCarthy is a conspicuous and noisy representative of the form Taft elements of the Republican party, he is naturally a target in the present struggle.

It does not make the slightest difference whether you and I like or dislike McCarthy, approve or disapprove of him, the fact remains this is the struggle for political power within the Republican party. You can get emotionally stirred up by the television brawl, but that does not change the political picture.

Moreover—and here is the point—we are witnessing a significant struggle from the standpoint of economics (and your future pocketbook) because it is obvious the "eastern wing" is far more liberal in its socio-economic views than their Republican "opponents" in the mid-west.

How, then, are we going to avoid political discussions, if we are going to measure both general and contrary opinions concerning coming trends?

Politics arouses emotions whereas economics is dull and deadening as a rule.

Accordingly, we shall be able occasionally to estimate the drift of opinions because of the emotions that have been stirred up over some political occurrence.

Consider the present sentiment over the recent hearings. Many people in the east, as well as I can judge, cannot express too much distaste for Joe McCarthy and his actions during the hearings. Out in the mid-west, on the other hand, Joe seems to have gained rather than lost in recent weeks. A poll being conducted by the Chicago Tribune shows an overwhelming "vote" for McCarthy as against Secretary Stevens, following their television show.

Certainly, however, when you consider the Communist uprisings throughout the world and in our own neighboring countries it does not appear to be a good time to let down our guard on Communist infiltration in our own nation. The Babson organization has just done a serviceable job for Americans by reporting in their Washington "letter" a complete story of the Communists' program in the United States. It is a published pamphlet titled (deceptively titled," as Babson comments) "The American Way to Jobs, Peace, and Democracy." Highland

Highland, June 23 — Clayton Harcourt, Phoenix, Ariz., arrived Sunday to visit his sister, Miss Laura Harcourt, nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien and family, Canaan, Conn., visited his mother and sister Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Haefeli, Jr., spent the weekend in Philadelphia.

Following a picnic supper Tuesday at the home of the retiring president of the Auxiliary of Lloyd Post, American Legion, the officers for the coming year were elected with Mrs. Elsie Mertes, president; Mrs. Arlene Wellington, first vice-president; Mrs. Marge Ganora, second vice-president; Mrs. Mildred Huddleson, secretary; Mrs. Lena Slater, treasurer; Mrs. Rose Valenti, chaplain; Mrs. Evelyn Schaefer, sergeant-at-arms. The installation will take place early in September since no meeting will be held in July and August. Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Going by Kingston High School the other day, I saw graduates in small groups all over the lawn and stone wall exchanging autographs in their new Maroons. That's an important day when the Maroons come out. You wait four years for it, and then suddenly, here it is. You wonder what is written about you and your classmates and you want to see all the pictures. They look modern and up-to-date. But wait until many years pass and you look at the same pictures and write-ups then the Maroon is even more interesting. Right now I am going through my own 1924 Maroon. It was a one day affair when you look for signatures and of course some of your closest classmates are missed. Some of the ones who signed in my book were Watson J. Bailey, who signed "Wats." Cople Barnovitz signed his name in two languages. Mary Birmingham and Danny Bittner signed on same page. Mary Butler, Verna Campfield and Helen E. Carpenter signed on one page. Although I knew Edmond Cloonan, Frances Dederick and Beatrice Follette I see I missed getting their signatures. Anna Gasool, Mary Gallagher and "Barney" Galvin are signed on one page. Joseph Gordon, Richard Hall, Rose Miriam Halloran, Caroline E. Hatch and Fred C. Gronemeyer made it on one page too, yet I did not get Marianina Gorham, John T. Henry, Joe Howard, Joseph Ingalsbe and Sadie Jacobson all have their Palmer method handwriting in full swing on the pages, as well as Robert Keating, Goldie Kline and Bert Knauth.

No doubt others who graduated around this time remember all the above students. Of course, what always interests each one of us is: "What are they doing now and where are they?" Cople Barnovitz has, I think, the largest drug store in town, Watson J. Bailey teaches at KHS. Mary Birmingham is married and raising a family. Danny Bittner is with the railroad and still keeps up his piano playing. He was good at it back in my day in School 3. Mary Butler became an efficient and attractive registered nurse. Edmond Cloonan is with the Kingston City Engineers' Office. Frances Dederick has an interesting life going from California to Woodstock's art centers as the seasons change. Charles R. Douglas and Frances Dederick were art editors of the Maroon. Charles is now with the Freeman in the editorial department. I wonder where William Metcalf is. He could draw good too. Joe Gordon has one of the largest drug stores of Ulster county in his home town of Phoenicia. It is nice seeing boys making good in their own home towns. A budding romance that started in high school and formed into a successful marriage was of course Henry Millonig and Gladys A. Raichle, one of our excellent musicians.

There is no end to the boys and girls from the 1924 class who made good in Kingston and elsewhere. Regina C. Powers is a good teacher, mother, musician and even artist. Well she was good in all her subjects back in my day too. Mary Richards, as I remember was a very quiet pretty girl in KHS. No doubt little did she dream then that she would hold the important positions she was destined to in years to come. She married one of the Weber boys of Rondout. According to the poem in the Maroon, Henry Singer was to become a good businessman and he did. One of our leading merchants of Rondout. The second time I met "Cliff" Smith after he signed my book, was on my own roof many years later. For many years he has been Smith, of the Smith-Parish Roofing & Supply Co.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Going by Kingston High School the other day, I saw graduates in small groups all over the lawn and stone wall exchanging autographs in their new Maroons. That's an important day when the Maroons come out. You wait four years for it, and then suddenly, here it is. You wonder what is written about you and your classmates and you want to see all the pictures. They look modern and up-to-date. But wait until many years pass and you look at the same pictures and write-ups then the Maroon is even more interesting. Right now I am going through my own 1924 Maroon. It was a one day affair when you look for signatures and of course some of your closest classmates are missed. Some of the ones who signed in my book were Watson J. Bailey, who signed "Wats." Cople Barnovitz signed his name in two languages. Mary Birmingham and Danny Bittner signed on same page. Mary Butler, Verna Campfield and Helen E. Carpenter signed on one page. Although I knew Edmond Cloonan, Frances Dederick and Beatrice Follette I see I missed getting their signatures. Anna Gasool, Mary Gallagher and "Barney" Galvin are signed on one page. Joseph Gordon, Richard Hall, Rose Miriam Halloran, Caroline E. Hatch and Fred C. Gronemeyer made it on one page too, yet I did not get Marianina Gorham, John T. Cople Barnovitz has, I think, the largest drug store in town, Watson J. Bailey teaches at KHS. Mary Birmingham is married and raising a family. Danny Bittner is with the railroad and still keeps up his piano playing. He was good at it back in my day in School 3. Mary Butler became an efficient and attractive registered nurse. Edmond Cloonan is with the Kingston City Engineers' Office. Frances Dederick has an interesting life going from California to Woodstock's art centers as the seasons change. Charles R. Douglas and Frances Dederick were art editors of the Maroon. Charles is now with the Freeman in the editorial department. I wonder where William Metcalf is. He could draw good too. When you are stringing marinated pieces of beef or lamb on skewers for grilling outdoors, leave a little space between each piece of meat. Then all sides will be deliciously browned and have that good charcoal flavor.

Count on three to four servings per pound of canned ham when you are offering it to a crowd.

Attention Outdoor Cooks

When you are stringing marinated pieces of beef or lamb on skewers for grilling outdoors, leave a little space between each piece of meat. Then all sides will be deliciously browned and have that good charcoal flavor.

Count on three to four servings per pound of canned ham when you are offering it to a crowd.

who was secretary to Jimmy Johnston, when he was matchmaker at the Garden in the Era of Wonderful Nonsense. Jimmy was a cocky, little Harp from Liverpool who had a large family of his own and fought tooth and nail for them in a tough, cynical racket, leaving affectations of fastidious ethics to the toffs constituting Tex Rickard's 600 millionaires, many of whom died broke or ultimately will. Johnston advertised for an office-girl and there was a stampede. Presently one little girl began shoving through the jam exclaiming "Excuse me, excuse me, I want to see my daddy" and horned right into Johnston's office.

Jimmy admired her ingenuity and nerve, a good deal like his own, and asked what her experience was. Margie said, "I was Father Duffy's secretary for two years." Jimmy started to phone Father Duffy and Margie began to cry. She said she actually had only addressed some envelopes for Father Duffy. But she just had to have that job.

Margie worked on and on for years at the Garden, a sweet, marry kid, but sickly. Finally she disappeared and after a long time I read that she had died at Saranac.

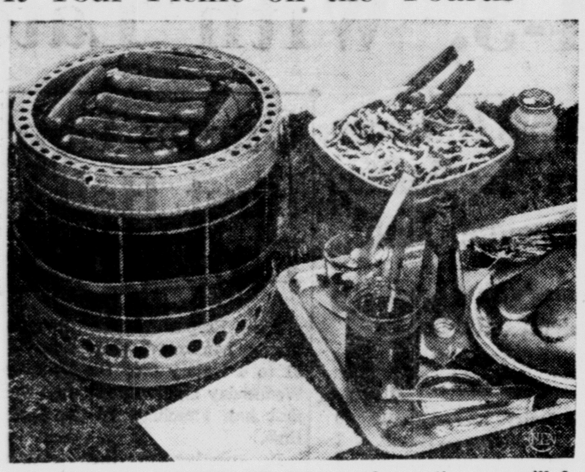
Try These Barbecued Franks At Your Picnic on the 'Fourth'



PERFECT FOR FOURTH OF JULY outdoor eating are grilled barbecued franks.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Barbecued franks can be mighty good eating. For the Fourth of July picnic what could be easier or more welcome?

We use one of those new portable charcoal grills in a Scotch plaid container. They do a surprisingly good job neatly and are inexpensive. Here's the way we do our franks in the open. Think you'll like them our way.

Barbecued Frankfurters
(Makes 8 servings)

Eight frankfurters, about 1 pound, ¾ cup barbecue sauce, 8 frankfurter rolls.

With a sharp knife score frankfurters lightly three or four times. Place on grill rack over glowing coals. Grill until brown, about 5 to 8 minutes. Brush with barbecue sauce and turn. Grill other side until brown, about 3 to 5 minutes longer. Brush with sauce and serve in frankfurter rolls.

Rolls may be toasted lightly on the grill before using. If desired, first brush frankfurters all over with bottled browning gravy sauce.

Quick 'n' Easy Barbecue Sauce
(Makes about ¾ cup)

One half cup catsup, 2 tablespoons honey, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet.

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Use immediately or store in refrigerator until needed.

Barbecue Sauce
(Makes about 1¾ cups)

Two tablespoons cooking oil, 1/3 cup minced onion, 1 small clove garlic, minced, ½ cup strained honey, ½ cup tomato catsup, ½ cup red wine vinegar, ¼ cup Worchestershire sauce, 1½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon oregano, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon thyme.

Place oil in small saucepan, add onion, garlic and cook, stirring frequently, over moderate heat until onion is tender but not brown, about 3 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Lower heat and simmer for 5 minutes. This may be stored in refrigerator and used as needed.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Barbecued franks, long rolls (lightly toasted), potato and cucumber salad, whole tomatoes, maple layer cake, assorted fresh fruit, coffee, tea, milk.

Protect Butter Flavor

Keep butter or margarine in the refrigerator, wrapped and in their package or in a covered container until you are ready to use the spread. This way flavor is protected.

Monarchs Outlast Clowns, 14-11, in Battle of Stadium Walks

31 Free Tickets Shatter Majors' Mark Set in 1916

The post-war version of organized Negro baseball descended on Dietz Memorial Stadium last night with a rash of bases on balls, as the Kansas City Monarchs outlasted the Indianapolis Clowns, 14 to 11, in a regular Negro American League contest.

En route to their near-midnight marathon that consumed 3 hours and 1 minute to play, the teams shattered the existing major league record with a phenomenal total of 31 walks.

The major league record of 30 walks was set May 9, 1916, by Detroit, 18, and Philadelphia 12, in the American League. The National League record of 24 was established May 30, 1887, with Chicago 17, New York 7.

There were only 18 hits in the game, but pitcher Marvin Jones of the Monarchs, who went the bloody distance, doled out a dozen free passes.

Only 300 See Game

When the walkathon ended, less than a dozen of the original 300 spectators remained in the stands.

The Monarchs, perennial champions of Negro ball, but trailing the Memphis Red Sox in the first half standings, spotted the Clowns six runs in the first inning. The Clowns made only two hits in the frame but five walks and an outfield miscue accounted for the harvest.

Monarchs cut the margin to 6-3 in the third with a trio of tallies on five walks, a single and a passed ball.

Smashes Long Homer

In the fourth, Fran Herrera, the Monarchs' giant first sacker, smashed a tremendous three-run homer over the left field embankment. The ball sailed past the light pole in deep left on the fly and rolled over the bank. The big blow put the Monarchs ahead 11-8 and they dominated the action the rest of the way.

Before Walk Marathon at Stadium

These players and officials look fresh and ready for action prior to last night's Negro American League contest at Dietz Memorial Stadium but after the battle of walks in the three hour and one minute contest, it was an entirely different group of individuals. The Kansas City Monarchs managed to outlast the Indianapolis Clowns for a 14 to 11 win. A total of 31 walks were issued, eclipsing the major league record of 30 set in 1916. Posing for The Freeman camerman were, front (l-r) Bebop, King Tutt with the mammoth glove and Ed Hammond, garbed in the clown suit. Women See Action

The dreary action was enlivened considerably by the comedy antics of Eddie Hamman of the Clowns. They staged a shadow ball game in the seventh and Hamman unleased a pleasing repertoire of baseball stunts throughout the game. The two women players—Toni Stone of the Monarchs and Connie Morgan of the Clowns—made only brief appearances. Miss Morgan walked in her only time at bat, while Miss Stone batted once and fanned. In the field she handled one chance flawlessly. The Clowns, owned by Syd Pollack, the veteran Tarrytown mentor, were managed by Oscar Charleston, one of Negro baseball's all-time great first basemen. Charleston brought the Philadelphia Stars of the Negro National League for two thrilling extra-inning ball games in the Kingston Recreation era.

Outside Entries Swell Woodstock Horse Show List

Additional out of town entries have been received for the Woodstock Riding Club's eighth annual horse show on Sunday, June 27.

The show starts at 9 a. m. at the club's Ohayo mountain ring and post entries will be accepted in all 29 classes.

Two standout entries include Vida-MacDonald owned by Peter R. Reneson of East Hampton, Conn., and Evening Star owned by the Golden View Stud Farm.

Among area entries are Honey and Abner, owned by Miss Susan Ashley; Gee-Dee, owned by Izzy Epstein of Kingston; Lady, Miss Barbara Davenport, Stone Ridge; King, Mrs. Alton Dietz, Hurley; Starjack, Miss Helen Dargan, Saugerties; Southlands Free Air, Miss Eva Van Rijn and Gambler's Choice, Miss Betsy Wagenfohr, Woodstock; Royal Lad, Miss Phyllis Levine, Ellenville; and Smokey, Ernest Marl, Cragsmoor.

Tents Ready Friday

Tents for the stabling will be erected Friday, with the Canadian entries expected to arrive that morning. Many of the other out of town horses are due Saturday.

Griffin Herrick, club president and chairman of the grounds committee, has called work meetings at the ring every night this week, for the final preparation before the show. Jumps and the outside hunt course have had a thorough going over, the hay has been cut and the ring itself has had constant work so that it is now at the best it has ever been. Out of town visitors at the ring during the weekend described it as the finest they have seen, and they have been showing throughout New York and New England during the spring months.

Assisting the president are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil VanWagonen, Mrs. Herrick, Frielan van de Bogart, Elliott Ostrander, Charles Riley, Joseph Moculski and other club members. The road leading to the ring has also had considerable work done and is in good shape to handle the heavy horse trailers which will be rolling into town beginning Friday.

Hurlers in Spotlight During Softball Games on Wednesday

Boyce in 1-Hitter, Amato, Bigler Excel

Pitching performances by three City Softball hurlers took the spotlight during Wednesday's schedule of games.

Frank Boyce led the parade with a sparkling one-hitter while Joe Amato, Sr., and Walter Bigler authored two-hit games.

The fast-moving Subway Grill, receiving a stellar two-hit pitching performance by veteran Joe Amato, Sr., and a 19-hit offensive, walked over Electrol with plenty to spare for a 16 to 0 victory.

Amato limited the losers to hits by Ron Herrick and A. Corrado as his mates gave him all the support he needed to pick up the shutout verdict.

The Subways hammered out a 4-0 edge in the first two innings and came back strong with seven runs in the third and five in the fourth for the lop-sided win.

Daisy Schatzel led the winners with four hits in five trips, including a pair of doubles. Sonny Barnes rapped a homer. Mike Rienzo had two doubles and Joe Scholar one for the hit-happy subways.

Meanwhile, the Skylines had to go all-out for a 12 to 11 decision over Perrys to increase their lead in the American Division.

Jankowski's Homer Wins

It was Frank Jankowski who won the game with a homer in the last half of the sixth in the free-hitting game. Jankowski also went "4 for 4". Jim Woods kept his two hits a game menu going with three hits last night. Champ Holstein and Hank Diamond also picked up three. Tony Musta, John Crispino and Herb Houghtaling led the losers with three safeties apiece. Bob Slover had a homer for Perrys.

Ed Lowe and Don Osterhoudt hurled for Skylines while Bob Slover and Rich Amato worked for Perrys.

Lincolns Take Fifth

In the National Division play, the Lincoln Park squad, after its slow start won its fifth straight, an easy 10 to 2 win over Chez Emile. The winners were paced by Ken Hornbeck and Bud Leininger who stroked homers. Bernie Schlanger first sacker for the winners, had a perfect night with "3 for 3" while Leininger had three hits in four trips.

Walt Bigler, another veteran City Softball flinger, came up with the second two-hitter of the night. B. Glaser and F. Schryver spoiled Bigler's bid for the Hall of Fame. Ben Freer and Joe Enright hurled for the losers.

Boyce Excels

In another stellar pitching chore, Frank Boyce limited the Alpine to a single hit as the Destroyer A. C. scored three runs in the fourth and made them stand up for a 3 to 1 decision. A bunt single by G. Petruski in the second inning spoiled Boyce's bid for a no-hitter. Charlie Marable had a homer for the Destroyers.

In other games last night, Hercules hammered out a 10 to 6 victory over Gene's with Tom Rizzi getting the verdict. Hastings, Ashdown, John Grube and Bob Walker smacked homers.

A nine-run fifth inning nearly went down the drain for the Cedar Rest but a three-run ninth inning rally pulled out a 12 to 11 victory over Kaplan Bag. Dan Basch and H. Van Wagenen collected homers.

Rapp's Express took the measure of the Legion to the tune of 10 to 7 with homers by Ken Steltz, Bill Sinsabaugh and Frank Tiano featuring the free-hitting game.

Diamond Hal Cops

Westbury, June 24 (AP)—Diamond Hal, 3-year-old bay colt owned by the S. A. Camp Farms of Shafter, Calif., and driven by Joe O'Brien, won Roosevelt Raceway's featured Glen Cove Pace in 2:05 last night. He finished a half length in front of Mighty Grattan with Greentree Express third.

Telepas Is Winner Over Houghtaling In League Clash

Nadler Motors borrowed one of the Frank Merriwell pages from Leo Durocher's Giants Wednesday night at the Atheltic Field and it paid off with dividends.

Trailing 3 to 2 going into the final inning in a sizzling mound duel between Jack Houghtaling and George Telepas, the Motormen came to life after the door was left wide open with an error and quickly proceeded to ram across two runs for the decision.

Telepas himself opened the uprising when he reached on Paul Giannuzzi's error at short. Eric Goercke eventually pushed Telepas across with the tying run on his single. Bob Baumer pushed down a perfect bunt and legged it to first for a hit with Goercke advancing to second. Ward Dunham followed with a single driving in Baumer with the second run of the inning and the ball game.

Panthers Take Lead

A long triple by Skip Brodhead and Johnny Godwin's single gave the Panthers their first run in the second. It was Brodhead again in the third when he walked, pilfered second and rode home on Godwin's one-baser to give the Panthers a 2-0 lead.

The Motormen got back in the ball game with a two runs in the bottom half of the third. Torm Larsen singled and Telepas reached first when Haber booted his sacrifice. Goercke's single loaded the sacks and Baumer worked Houghtaling for a walk, forcing in Larsen. Telepas came in to tie the score after Engle fanned.

The Panthers made it 3-2 in the fourth when Haber reached on Baumer's error, went to second on Bob Bondar's bunt and scored on Ferraro's single.

Then came the Merriwell finish in the bottom half of the seventh.

Houghtaling Fans Seven

It was a tough decision for Houghtaling to be absorbed with the loss. He fanned seven and gave up two walks. Telepas struck out three and walked the same number.

Dobler Beer has a chance to move into a two-way tie for second place tonight when it meets the last place Olive Merchants.

Toski Heads Field

Wethersfield, Conn., June 24 (AP)—Big time golf comes to Connecticut today as 162 pros and amateurs start play in the $15,000 insurance city Open, a four-day tournament at the Wethersfield Country Club's par 35-36-71 course. The field, headed by Bob Toski of Livingston, N. J., who won the event last year with a 15-under-par 269, will be cut to the 60 low players and ties after tomorrow's round.

Giants Cop First Half Esopus LL

The Esopus Little League Giants hammered their way to 21 to 4 victory over the Dodgers Wednesday night and clinched the first half standings at the same time.

In coasting to their eighth straight league conquest, the Giants picked up 12 hits, including triples by Curtis King and Darrel Myers. The winners also stroked four doubles—Rolf Kruckas, Ed Nembhardt, Ron Halsey and Art Harris. Matt Jones had a two-ply blow for the Dodgers.

Astorga Fans 12

Mario Astorga went to the distance for the first half champions and acquitted himself superably. While allowing only five hits, Astorga whiffed 12. Matt Jones fanned four in a losing cause.

Art Harris had a perfect night for the Giants with "3 for 3." Darrel Myers, Ed Nembhardt and Ron Halsey each had two hits. Matt Jones picked up two of the Dodgers' five safeties.

Monarchs Outlast Clowns, 14-11, in Battle of Stadium Walks

31 Free Tickets Shatter Majors' Mark Set in 1916

The post-war version of organized Negro baseball descended on Dietz Memorial Stadium last night with a rash of bases on balls, as the Kansas City Monarchs outlasted the Indianapolis Clowns, 14 to 11, in a regular Negro American League contest.

En route to their near-midnight marathon that consumed 3 hours and 1 minute to play, the teams shattered the existing major league record with a phenomenal total of 31 walks.

The major league record of 30 walks was set May 9, 1916, by Detroit, 18, and Philadelphia 12, in the American League. The National League record of 24 was established May 30, 1887, with Chicago 17, New York 7.

There were only 18 hits in the game, but pitcher Marvin Jones of the Monarchs, who went the bloody distance, doled out a dozen free passes.

Only 300 See Game

When the walkathon ended, less than a dozen of the original 300 spectators remained in the stands.

The Monarchs, perennial champions of Negro ball, but trailing the Memphis Red Sox in the first half standings, spotted the Clowns six runs in the first inning. The Clowns made only two hits in the frame but five walks and an outfield miscue accounted for the harvest.

Monarchs cut the margin to 6-3 in the third with a trio of tallies on five walks, a single and a passed ball.

Smashes Long Homer

In the fourth, Fran Herrera, the Monarchs' giant first sacker, smashed a tremendous three-run homer over the left field embankment. The ball sailed past the light pole in deep left on the fly and rolled over the bank. The big blow put the Monarchs ahead 11-8 and they dominated the action the rest of the way.

N. Y. Panthers	1	2
Olive Merchants	0	3

Nadler Motors borrowed one of the Frank Merriwell pages from Leo Durocher's Giants Wednesday night at the Athletic Field and it paid off with dividends.

Trailing 3 to 2 going into the final inning in a sizzling mound duel between Jack Houghtaling and George Telepas, the Motormen came to life after the door was left wide open with an error and quickly proceeded to ram across two runs for the decision.

Telepas himself opened the uprising when he reached on Paul Giannuzzi's error at short. Eric Goercke eventually pushed Telepas across with the tying run on his single. Bob Baumer pushed down a perfect bunt and legged it to first for a hit with Goercke advancing to second. Ward Dunham followed with a single driving in Baumer with the second run of the inning and the ball game.

Panthers Take Lead

A long triple by Skip Brodhead and Johnny Godwin's single gave the Panthers their first run in the second. It was Brodhead again in the third when he walked, pilfered second and rode home on Godwin's one-baser to give the Panthers a 2-0 lead.

The Motormen got back in the ball game with a two runs in the bottom half of the third. Torm Larsen singled and Telepas reached first when Haber booted his sacrifice. Goercke's single loaded the sacks and Baumer worked Houghtaling for a walk, forcing in Larsen. Telepas came in to tie the score after Engle fanned.

The Panthers made it 3-2 in the fourth when Haber reached on Baumer's error, went to second on Bob Bondar's bunt and scored on Ferraro's single.

Then came the Merriwell finish in the bottom half of the seventh.

Houghtaling Fans Seven

It was a tough decision for Houghtaling to be absorbed with the loss. He fanned seven and gave up two walks. Telepas struck out three and walked the same number.

Dobler Beer has a chance to move into a two-way tie for second place tonight when it meets the last place Olive Merchants.

Toski Heads Field

Wethersfield, Conn., June 24 (AP)—Big time golf comes to Connecticut today as 162 pros and amateurs start play in the $15,000 insurance city Open, a four-day tournament at the Wethersfield Country Club's par 35-36-71 course. The field, headed by Bob Toski of Livingston, N. J., who won the event last year with a 15-under-par 269, will be cut to the 60 low players and ties after tomorrow's round.

Giants Cop First Half Esopus LL

The Esopus Little League Giants hammered their way to 21 to 4 victory over the Dodgers Wednesday night and clinched the first half standings at the same time.

In coasting to their eighth straight league conquest, the Giants picked up 12 hits, including triples by Curtis King and Darrel Myers. The winners also stroked four doubles—Rolf Kruckas, Ed Nembhardt, Ron Halsey and Art Harris. Matt Jones had a two-ply blow for the Dodgers.

Astorga Fans 12

Mario Astorga went to the distance for the first half champions and acquitted himself superably. While allowing only five hits, Astorga whiffed 12. Matt Jones fanned four in a losing cause.

Art Harris had a perfect night for the Giants with "3 for 3." Darrel Myers, Ed Nembhardt and Ron Halsey each had two hits. Matt Jones picked up two of the Dodgers' five safeties.

Braves' Saver

Jolly Puts End to Giants' Frank Merriwell Rallies

Retires Three With Bases Loaded in 9th

(By The Associated Press)

Depending on where you hail from, "jolly good" may sound like English slang of phoney Indian talk. But around the tribal councils of the Milwaukee Braves it means it's a good thing, Jolly's good.

Dave Jolly is the Braves' "saver," the pitcher who gets the call when the going is the toughest. He's one of the new post-war breed of relief pitchers, brought to the majors for the special job of protecting leads in late innings.

The lean Irish righthander from Stony Point, N. C., has been delivering in brilliant style. In 36 innings Jolly has given up only 23 hits and 4 earned runs for a sparkling earned run average of 1.00. His personal record shows four victories and two defeats. But one of his most spectacular performances won't appear on his won and lost totals.

This came yesterday in Milwaukee's 5-2 triumph over the fast moving New York Giants.

Wilson Kayoed

Jim (no-hit) Wilson sailed into the last of the ninth with a three run edge en-route to his fourth straight victory. But the Giants, who think they own the copyright on Frank Merriwell finishes, got rid of Wilson with successive singles by Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

With the Dangerous Willie Mays at bat, Jolly strolled to the rescue. He worked the count to 2-2 on Mays, who had homered earlier, before hitting him in the back to fill the bases.

Then Jolly applied the pressure. Pinch hitter Hank Thompson lofted a short fly. Wes Westrum fouled out. And Bobby Hofman, who has hit three pinch hit home runs this season, popped up in front of the plate.

Orioles Finally Cop

Brooklyn cut the Giants' first place margin to a single game by beating Cincinnati 6-3. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 as Harvey Haddix won his 12th game. Philadelphia whipped Chicago 5-3.

In the American League Cleveland tripped Philadelphia 5-2, Chicago outlasted Washington 8-6, New York defeated Detroit 9-4 and Baltimore broke its 9-game losing streak, shading Boston 8-7 in a 17-inning marathon that ran 4 hours 58 minutes, the longest game ever played in the American League and one minute short of the longest night game in major league history.

The Dodgers broke Cincinnati's five-game winning streak with a 13-hit attack. Duke Snider drove in four runs, three on a bases-loaded triple and one on a single. Don Newcombe picked up his fifth victory with his second consecutive complete game.

Haddix String Halted

The Pirates broke Haddix's string of scoreless innings at 37 but the little lefthander had no trouble in winning his 10th straight.

Willie Jones doubled home two runs in the eighth inning for the Phillies' winning margin over Chicago.

Cleveland stayed three games in front of the White Sox with the help of a home run attack on the Athletics. Homers by Larry Doby, Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Lemon accounted for all of the Indian runs.

Chicago wasted a five-run first inning lead but finally beat Washington on Sherm Lollar's two run pinch hit single in the sixth.

The Yankees came from behind at Detroit as Gil McDougald pounded three doubles and a single, good for four runs.

Four Boston runs in the ninth sent the game at Baltimore into overtime. The Orioles finally won in the 17th on a single, a fluke double, a walk and a successful dash for home by Jim Brideweser on a grounder in the infield. Boston executed the season's second triple play in the first inning.

Andrews Points To Slade After TKO Over Nardico

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Confident Paul Andrews, a rangy ex-paratrooper with a stiff punch in either hand, today drew a bead on an Aug. 4 bout with Spoiler Jimmy Slade after enhancing his lightheavy ranking here last night.

Andrews scored a fourth-round technical knockout over rugged Danny Nardico at the Chicago Stadium. The 24-year-old Andrews, ranked sixth as a 175 pounder, dropped Nardico for a nine count in the third round and the Tampa, Fla., slugger was waved off as he tried to start the fourth.

Hitch in Plans

There's a hitch in the Aug. 4 Andrews vs. Slade bout here because Slade, who recently untracked Hurrican Jackson has an ailing hand. If Slade can't come up against Andrews, the Buffalo, N. Y. belter may meet the winner of a heavyweight bout between Jackson and Nino Valdes July 14 at Madison Square Garden.

Andrews, who scored his 24th victory against three defeats, weighed 180 and Nardico 178 for the nationally-televised bout which attracted a crowd of 1,889 paying a net of $3,513.89. It was Nardico's 13th defeat against 48 victories.

49 Golfers Qualify For State Tourney

(By The Associated Press)

Forty-nine golfers qualified yesterday in five districts for the State Amateur tournament to be held July 7-11 at the Fairview Country Club in Elmsford.

Yesterday's lowest score was a one-under-par 69 turned in by John Snyder, Jr., 20, of Troy, at the Normanside Country Club, Albany. Snyder, who will represent the Albany-Capitol District for the third time in next month's tourney, had a 35-34. In all, eight made the grade in the Albany district.

Kowal Paces Field

Stan Kowal paced a field of 13 who qualified over the Yahnundasis Club course at Utica. Kowal had a 33-39—71.

At the Ithaca Country Club, Al Impaglia of Auburn carded a 73 to lead five qualifiers from that district.

Tony Langan of Syracuse won a sudden-death playoff with Mid O'Hare to take medalist honors in the Syracuse qualifiers over the Syracuse Yacht and Country Club course. Both fired regulation 72s, but Langan birdied the second playoff hole as O'Hare had a bogie four. In all, 14 qualified in the district.

At the Dutchess Golf and Country Club in Poughkeepsie, William Bogle posted a par 70 to top nine qualifiers.

A field of 128 is expected at the tourney.

Moose Lodge Rallies to Trim Lions

A five-run last inning rally gave the Moose Lodge an 8 to 4 victory over the Lions Club in the American Little League Wednesday night, highlighted by Mike Carpino's homer.

Trailing 4 to 3 going into the final round, Bob Robinson singled but Joe DeCicco whiffed. After Don Ellsworth lined out to Dick Ellis, Mike Carpino rapped a homer over the center field fence. Charlie Boice continued the uprising with a walk and Ed Corcoran reached on Tom Prisco's boot. Dick Marcus, who had a perfect night with "4 for 4," doubled home both Boice and Corcoran. Marcus later tallied with the help of another error.

Marcus Gets Two Doubles

Democrats Down GOP 2-1 on No-Hitter

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Congressional Democrats boasted the first no-hitter in Capitol Hill's "World Series" history today—but even so they were hard pressed to maintain their unbroken string over a fighting Republican nine.

The annual congressional baseball game went into its fifth and final inning last night with the GOP stalwarts out in front, 1-0, two out and nobody on base. Then came a Democratic deluge:

McCarthy Raps Triple

Rep. Harlan Hagen of California walked and stole second. Rep. Sieminski of New Jersey tied up the game with a double. Rep. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin fouled off one pitch, took a ball, then walloped the third mound offering into the left field recesses of Griffith Stadium for a triple.

Final score: 2-1, in favor of the Democrats who have yet to lose since the charity series started seven years ago.

Rep. Don (Fireball) Wheeler of Georgia was the hurling pride of the Democrats with a no-hit stint, the only run off him was unearned.

Wilson Meets Trabert

Wimbledon, England, June 24 (AP)—London schoolboy Bobby Wilson meets Cincinnati stylist Tony Trabert today in a third round Wimbledon match that carries within itself much of Britain's future tennis hopes. This is Wimbledon's classic David and Goliath match for 1954. It sends a fresh-faced boy who wants to run a drug store against an American who has the domination of the amateur tennis world almost within his grasp. For all of his nonchalance, Trabert—current holder of the United States and French titles and top seed here—is hungry for the all-England championship.

Bolero First In Yacht Run

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 24 (AP) — The Bolero became the first boat to finish the 635-mile Newport, R. I., to Bermuda yacht race today.

The sleek black-hulled 73-foot yawl, skippered by John Nicholas Brown, crossed the finish line at St. Davids Head at approximately 1:54 a. m. (EST) after signalling her sail number, 134, in Morse code to the royal naval frigate, Cygnet.

W. H. Wheeler's yawl, Cotton Blossom IV, crossed the finish line second.

Wendell Anderson's yawl, Escapade, out of Detroit, crossed the finish line third.

The Bolero's elapsed time was 4 days, nine hours, 55 minutes and 4½ seconds. Her corrected time was 24-5-55-4½.

Senior Play Opens

Milwaukee, June 24 (AP)—A field of 240 golfers, all 50 years old or older, tee off in the Western Senior golf tournament today on the spongy fairways of Blue Mound Country Club. Eighteen holes today and 18 Friday will determine the champion of the medal play event. Recent heavy rains have slowed the 6,365 yard, par 70, course. "I don't look for anyone to come within three or four shots of par," Thomas Robbins of Larchmont, N. Y., said Wednesday after finishing a practice tour on the soggy turf. Robbins is one of the meet favorites.

Historic Track Plans Pageant For 100th Year

Champions All, a pageant portraying the evolution of harness racing, will be staged in Goshen on Thursday, July 8, in observance of Historic Track's 100th anniversary, vice-president, Russell W. Hart announced today.

Miss Betty Sharts, official historian for the village and town of Goshen, has planned the program which will parade in front of the grandstand.

Miss Sharts has spent considerable time checking records to assure that every detail of the pageant will be in accordance with historical hearings.

The pageant will be divided into two eras, saddle and low bike wheel.

Robert Hathaway of Middletown will narrate for the pageant which will begin in the year of 1703 with the appearance of an Indian Chief as portrayed by Miss Julia C. Reid.

The first known horse was owned by Sarah Wells who will be shown as she arrived in 1712 with a friendly Indian escort, two white men and two horses.

Braves' Saver

Jolly Puts End to Giants' Frank Merriwell Rallies

Retires Three With Bases Loaded in 9th

(By The Associated Press)

Depending on where you hail from, "jolly good" may sound like English slang of phoney Indian talk. But around the tribal councils of the Milwaukee Braves it means it's a good thing, Jolly's good.

Dave Jolly is the Braves' "saver," the pitcher who gets the call when the going is the toughest. He's one of the new post-war breed of relief pitchers, brought to the majors for the special job of protecting leads in late innings.

The lean Irish righthander from Stony Point, N. C., has been delivering in brilliant style. In 36 innings Jolly has given up only 23 hits and 4 earned runs for a sparkling earned run average of 1.00. His personal record shows four victories and two defeats. But one of his most spectacular performances won't appear on his won and lost totals.

This came yesterday in Milwaukee's 5-2 triumph over the fast moving New York Giants.

Wilson Kayoed

Jim (no-hit) Wilson sailed into the last of the ninth with a three run edge en-route to his fourth straight victory. But the Giants, who think they own the copyright on Frank Merriwell finishes, got rid of Wilson with successive singles by Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

With the Dangerous Willie Mays at bat, Jolly strolled to the rescue. He worked the count to 2-2 on Mays, who had homered earlier, before hitting him in the back to fill the bases.

Then Jolly applied the pressure. Pinch hitter Hank Thompson lofted a short fly. Wes Westrum fouled out. And Bobby Hofman, who has hit three pinch hit home runs this season, popped up in front of the plate.

Orioles Finally Cop

Brooklyn cut the Giants' first place margin to a single game by beating Cincinnati 6-3. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 as Harvey Haddix won his 12th game. Philadelphia whipped Chicago 5-3.

In the American League Cleveland tripped Philadelphia 5-2, Chicago outlasted Washington 8-6, New York defeated Detroit 9-4 and Baltimore broke its 9-game losing streak, shading Boston 8-7 in a 17-inning marathon that ran 4 hours 58 minutes, the longest game ever played in the American League and one minute short of the longest night game in major league history.

The Dodgers broke Cincinnati's five-game winning streak with a 13-hit attack. Duke Snider drove in four runs, three on a bases-loaded triple and one on a single. Don Newcombe picked up his fifth victory with his second consecutive complete game.

Haddix String Halted

The Pirates broke Haddix's string of scoreless innings at 37 but the little lefthander had no trouble in winning his 10th straight.

Willie Jones doubled home two runs in the eighth inning for the Phillies' winning margin over Chicago.

Cleveland stayed three games in front of the White Sox with the help of a home run attack on the Athletics. Homers by Larry Doby, Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Lemon accounted for all of the Indian runs.

Chicago wasted a five-run first inning lead but finally beat Washington on Sherm Lollar's two run pinch hit single in the sixth.

The Yankees came from behind at Detroit as Gil McDougald pounded three doubles and a single, good for four runs.

Four Boston runs in the ninth sent the game at Baltimore into overtime. The Orioles finally won in the 17th on a single, a fluke double, a walk and a successful dash for home by Jim Brideweser on a grounder in the infield. Boston executed the season's second triple play in the first inning.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago — Paul Andrews, 180, Buffalo, N. Y. stopped Danny Nardico, 178, Tampa, 4.

Andrews Points To Slade After TKO Over Nardico

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Confident Paul Andrews, a rangy ex-paratrooper with a stiff punch in either hand, today drew a bead on an Aug. 4 bout with Spoiler Jimmy Slade after enhancing his lightheavy ranking here last night.

Andrews scored a fourth-round technical knockout over rugged Danny Nardico at the Chicago Stadium. The 24-year-old Andrews, ranked sixth as a 175 pounder, dropped Nardico for a nine count in the third round and the Tampa, Fla., slugger was waved off as he tried to start the fourth.

Hitch in Plans

There's a hitch in the Aug. 4 Andrews vs. Slade bout here because Slade, who recently untracked Hurrican Jackson has an ailing hand. If Slade can't come up against Andrews, the Buffalo, N. Y. belter may meet the winner of a heavyweight bout between Jackson and Nino Valdes July 14 at Madison Square Garden.

Andrews, who scored his 24th victory against three defeats, weighed 180 and Nardico 178 for the nationally-televised bout which attracted a crowd of 1,889 paying a net of $3,513.89. It was Nardico's 13th defeat against 48 victories.

49 Golfers Qualify For State Tourney

(By The Associated Press)

Forty-nine golfers qualified yesterday in five districts for the State Amateur tournament to be held July 7-11 at the Fairview Country Club in Elmsford.

Yesterday's lowest score was a one-under-par 69 turned in by John Snyder, Jr., 20, of Troy, at the Normanside Country Club, Albany. Snyder, who will represent the Albany-Capitol District for the third time in next month's tourney, had a 35-34. In all, eight made the grade in the Albany district.

Kowal Paces Field

Stan Kowal paced a field of 13 who qualified over the Yahnundasis Club course at Utica. Kowal had a 33-39—71.

At the Ithaca Country Club, Al Impaglia of Auburn carded a 73 to lead five qualifiers from that district.

Tony Langan of Syracuse won a sudden-death playoff with Mid O'Hare to take medalist honors in the Syracuse qualifiers over the Syracuse Yacht and Country Club course. Both fired regulation 72s, but Langan birdied the second playoff hole as O'Hare had a bogie four. In all, 14 qualified in the district.

At the Dutchess Golf and Country Club in Poughkeepsie, William Bogle posted a par 70 to top nine qualifiers.

A field of 128 is expected at the tourney.

Moose Lodge Rallies to Trim Lions

A five-run last inning rally gave the Moose Lodge an 8 to 4 victory over the Lions Club in the American Little League Wednesday night, highlighted by Mike Carpino's homer.

Trailing 4 to 3 going into the final round, Bob Robinson singled but Joe DeCicco whiffed. After Don Ellsworth lined out to Dick Ellis, Mike Carpino rapped a homer over the center field fence. Charlie Boice continued the uprising with a walk and Ed Corcoran reached on Tom Prisco's boot. Dick Marcus, who had a perfect night with "4 for 4," doubled home both Boice and Corcoran. Marcus later tallied with the help of another error.

Marcus Gets Two Doubles

Democrats Down GOP 2-1 on No-Hitter

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Congressional Democrats boasted the first no-hitter in Capitol Hill's "World Series" history today—but even so they were hard pressed to maintain their unbroken string over a fighting Republican nine.

The annual congressional baseball game went into its fifth and final inning last night with the GOP stalwarts out in front, 1-0, two out and nobody on base. Then came a Democratic deluge:

McCarthy Raps Triple

Rep. Harlan Hagen of California walked and stole second. Rep. Sieminski of New Jersey tied up the game with a double. Rep. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin fouled off one pitch, took a ball, then walloped the third mound offering into the left field recesses of Griffith Stadium for a triple.

Final score: 2-1, in favor of the Democrats who have yet to lose since the charity series started seven years ago.

Rep. Don (Fireball) Wheeler of Georgia was the hurling pride of the Democrats with a no-hit stint, the only run off him was unearned.

Wilson Meets Trabert

Wimbledon, England, June 24 (AP)—London schoolboy Bobby Wilson meets Cincinnati stylist Tony Trabert today in a third round Wimbledon match that carries within itself much of Britain's future tennis hopes. This is Wimbledon's classic David and Goliath match for 1954. It sends a fresh-faced boy who wants to run a drug store against an American who has the domination of the amateur tennis world almost within his grasp. For all of his nonchalance, Trabert—current holder of the United States and French titles and top seed here—is hungry for the all-England championship.

Jackie Ferraro Is Leader With 653

Jackie Ferraro, who gets bowling tips first hand from one who knows, supplied the lead in the Ferraro Summer Mixed League Wednesday night with a nifty 653 blast on the hat trick scores of 219-232-202.

Jackie's 600 was one of three nestled closely for top-running honors.

Other top efforts included Shirley Buckman with 572; Ed Tuey 510; Bob Smith 513; Mickey Kahrs 203-535; John Brady 200-557; Larry Weishaupt 213-541; Harold Broskie 515; Bob Geisler 226-530; Barney Rosinski 213-202-574.

Near-misses included Jimmy DeCicco with 499; Ralph Dumenigo 493; John Howard 491; Marie Bechtold 491; and Lorraine Ferraro 490.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Duke Snider, Brooklyn Dodgers, drove in four runs and raised his league average to .376 with a single and a bases-loaded triple in Brooklyn's 6-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Pitching—Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinals, ran his victory string to 10 and his overall record to 12-3 with a 7-1 triumph over Pittsburgh. He extended his scoreless inning streak to 37 before it was broken in the sixth.

Bolero First In Yacht Run

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 24 (AP) — The Bolero became the first boat to finish the 635-mile Newport, R. I., to Bermuda yacht race today.

The sleek black-hulled 73-foot yawl, skippered by John Nicholas Brown, crossed the finish line at St. Davids Head at approximately 1:54 a. m. (EST) after signalling her sail number, 134, in Morse code to the royal naval frigate, Cygnet.

The Bolero finished spectacularly after being struck by a squall on approaching the finish line. The squall left her windless. With her big sails slapping about limp, she turned a complete slow circle which gave the race committee reason to believe she did not intend to finsh.

W. H. Wheeler's yawl, Cotton Blossom IV, crossed the finish line second.

Wendell Anderson's yawl, Escapade, out of Detroit, crossed the finish line third.

The Bolero's elapsed time was 4 days, nine hours, 55 minutes and 4½ seconds. Her corrected time was 24-5-55-4½.

Senior Play Opens

Milwaukee, June 24 (AP)—A field of 240 golfers, all 50 years old or older, tee off in the Western Senior golf tournament today on the spongy fairways of Blue Mound Country Club. Eighteen holes today and 18 Friday will determine the champion of the medal play event. Recent heavy rains have slowed the 6,365 yard, par 70, course. "I don't look for anyone to come within three or four shots of par," Thomas Robbins of Larchmont, N. Y., said Wednesday after finishing a practice tour on the soggy turf. Robbins is one of the meet favorites.

Historic Track Plans Pageant For 100th Year

Champions All, a pageant portraying the evolution of harness racing, will be staged in Goshen on Thursday, July 8, in observance of Historic Track's 100th anniversary, vice-president, Russell W. Hart announced today.

Miss Betty Sharts, official historian for the village and town of Goshen, has planned the program which will parade in front of the grandstand.

Miss Sharts has spent considerable time checking records to assure that every detail of the pageant will be in accordance with historical hearings.

The pageant will be divided into two eras, saddle and low bike wheel.

Robert Hathaway of Middletown will narrate for the pageant which will begin in the year of 1703 with the appearance of an Indian Chief as portrayed by Miss Julia C. Reid.

The first known horse was owned by Sarah Wells who will be shown as she arrived in 1712 with a friendly Indian escort, two white men and two horses.

Bigelow Will Filed in County

The last will and testament of Poultney Bigelow, 99, of Malden, noted author and traveler and personal friend of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany, has been filed for probate with the Ulster county surrogate.

Among beneficiaries of the "Sage of Malden," who died at Dale Sanitarium, Saugerties, May 28 after a long illness, are Adin Ballou of Stone Ridge, six residents of Malden and two Malden institutions, each listed to receive bequests of $1,000.

Cash Bequests Listed

The will contains 13 bequests of $1,000 each, including the Ballou legacy, as follows: Capt. Charles Tiffany, Herbert Cutler, Cecil Cox, May Cox, Alice Zeilman and John Fiero, all of Malden, friends and neighbors of Bigelow; trustees of the Malden Methodist Church and trustees of Bigelow Hall; The Century Association of New York city; trustees of Athenaeum Club of London, England; Everett Shinn of New York and The Players of New York.

His set of 75 volumes of the works of Voltaire, Paris 1828 edition, he willed to John Pell of Ticonderoga, husband of his granddaughter.

Letters From Kaiser

The bequest to the Century Association was in memory of his father, John Bigelow.

To the Royal Corinthian Yacht Club of Burnhal-on-Crouch, Essex, England, Bigelow willed his canoe, Caribee II, in which he was the first human to take a canoe through the Iron Gates of the Danube.

Two of his oddest legacies were a "jigghee" which he left to the Moses Brown School, Providence, R. I., and the "Papua of New Guinea, largest idol," which went to the trustees of Norwich Free Academy, Norwich Conn.

While the PCE 897 is here, entertainment will be furnished for the men aboard.

The Kingston City Transportation Corporation is offering free rides on its buses to the reservists, and Reade's Kingston Theatres will welcome them to their movie houses. Liberty passes are to be used by the men for free rides and shows.

Saturday, Kingston Post 150, American Legion will hold open house, with refreshments, and Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, will entertain the sailors Sunday starting at 2 p. m.

Former naval officers here plan to entertain the ship's officers at socials, including golf at Twaalfskill links.

History of Vessel

The PCE coming here was built at Portland, Ore., and commissioned in 1944. It was used as an escort vessel and submarine chaser in the Pacific area during World War 2 and later served as a weather ship before being decommissioned in 1949. It has been a training vessel for naval reservists since 1951 sailing out of Norfolk, Va., its home base.

The crew consists of nine officers and 90 men, according to Chairman London, including veterans of the last war and young men from 17 to 18½ who are getting basic training at home, training at weekly drills in preparation for their two-week cruise.

London said the cruise "gives a big chance to put into practice the training received all year long. The whole reserve system is one of the ways our country maintains a large pool of trained men able to act promptly in case of an emergency."

Many reservists from Kingston and surrounding area are reported to be performing reserve duties with organized surface division 3-87 at the Poughkeepsie armory.

Juicy Hamburgers

Try adding two tablespoons of milk to a pound of ground beef when you are making hamburgers; they'll come out juicy! Top the hamburgers with a mixture of chili sauce, pickle relish and prepared horseradish and serve on toasted buttered buns.

Knight Is Held For Grand Jury

Joseph Patrick Knight, 37, of Paterson, N. J., was ordered held for grand jury action when he was arraigned Wednesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of the town of Wawarsing on a second degree assault charge.

State police said Knight was accused of assaulting his wife, Elizabeth, 36, on Tuesday night at Shapiro's Maple Leaf Inn, Ellenville, where both were employed. Mrs. Knight was admitted to Veterans Memorial Hospital after being treated by Dr. Charles Rosenstock for lacerations of the nose, bruised left eye, and possible dislocated jaw, according to the state police report. Knight was arrested by Ellenville police Wednesday morning and turned over to the state police.

West Europe . . .

conference in Washington this weekend.

West Germany has agreed on how much it will pay toward European defense if EDC is ratified, but not how much it should pay now.

Allied officials said West German's present commitment to pay 950 million marks ($226,100,000) a month when the European Defense Community (EDC) is formed has been extended until Dec. 31, 1954.

But allied and German negotiators are still deadlocked over the amount the Bonn government will pay to help maintain allied troops in Germany, they said.

Under an agreement expiring June 30, the Germans pay 600 million marks ($142,800,000) a month in occupation costs. The Germans maintain this is too high.

Allied officials said further talks will be held in an effort to reach an agreement before June 30. The present agreement will continue in effect until a new arrangement is evolved.

Bigelow Will Filed in County

The last will and testament of Poultney Bigelow, 99, of Malden, noted author and traveler and personal friend of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany, has been filed for probate with the Ulster county surrogate.

Among beneficiaries of the "Sage of Malden," who died at Dale Sanitarium, Saugerties, May 28 after a long illness, are Adin Ballou of Stone Ridge, six residents of Malden and two Malden institutions, each listed to receive bequests of $1,000.

Cash Bequests Listed

The will contains 13 bequests of $1,000 each, including the Ballou legacy, as follows: Capt. Charles Tiffany, Herbert Cutler, Cecil Cox, May Cox, Alice Zeilman and John Fiero, all of Malden, friends and neighbors of Bigelow; trustees of the Malden Methodist Church and trustees of Bigelow Hall; The Century Association of New York city; trustees of Athenaeum Club of London, England; Everett Shinn of New York and The Players of New York.

His set of 75 volumes of the works of Voltaire, Paris 1828 edition, he willed to John Pell of Ticonderoga, husband of his granddaughter.

Letters From Kaiser

The wil forbids publication of his letters from the Kaiser without the consent of Wilhelm's widow, the Empress Hermine (now deceased) or his son, Crown Prince Louis Ferdinand.

The bequest to the Century Association was in memory of his father, John Bigelow.

To the Royal Corinthian Yacht Club of Burnhal-on-Crouch, Essex, England, Bigelow willed his canoe, Caribee II, in which he was the first human to take a canoe through the Iron Gates of the Danube.

Two of his oddest legacies were a "jigghee" which he left to the Moses Brown School, Providence, R. I., and the "Papua of New Guinea, largest idol," which went to the trustees of Norwich Free Academy, Norwich Conn.

will be away from the city on another official engagement.

While the PCE 897 is here, entertainment will be furnished for the men aboard.

The Kingston City Transportation Corporation is offering free rides on its buses to the reservists, and Reade's Kingston Theatres will welcome them to their movie houses. Liberty passes are to be used by the men for free rides and shows.

Saturday, Kingston Post 150, American Legion will hold open house, with refreshments, and Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, will entertain the sailors Sunday starting at 2 p. m.

Former naval officers here plan to entertain the ship's officers at socials, including golf at Twaalfskill links.

History of Vessel

The PCE coming here was built at Portland, Ore., and commissioned in 1944. It was used as an escort vessel and submarine chaser in the Pacific area during World War 2 and later served as a weather ship before being decommissioned in 1949. It has been a training vessel for naval reservists since 1951 sailing out of Norfolk, Va., its home base.

The crew consists of nine officers and 90 men, according to Chairman London, including veterans of the last war and young men from 17 to 18½ who are getting basic training at home, training at weekly drills in preparation for their two-week cruise.

London said the cruise "gives a big chance to put into practice the training received all year long. The whole reserve system is one of the ways our country maintains a large pool of trained men able to act promptly in case of an emergency."

Many reservists from Kingston and surrounding area are reported to be performing reserve duties with organized surface division 3-87 at the Poughkeepsie armory.

Knight Is Held For Grand Jury

Joseph Patrick Knight, 37, of Paterson, N. J., was ordered held for grand jury action when he was arraigned Wednesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of the town of Wawarsing on a second degree assault charge.

State police said Knight was accused of assaulting his wife, Elizabeth, 36, on Tuesday night at Shapiro's Maple Leaf Inn, Ellenville, where both were employed. Mrs. Knight was admitted to Veterans Memorial Hospital after being treated by Dr. Charles Rosenstock for lacerations of the nose, bruised left eye, and possible dislocated jaw, according to the state police report. Knight was arrested by Ellenville police Wednesday morning and turned over to the state police.

West Europe . . .

conference in Washington this weekend.

West Germany has agreed on how much it will pay toward European defense if EDC is ratified, but not how much it should pay now.

Allied officials said West German's present commitment to pay 950 million marks ($226,100,000) a month when the European Defense Community (EDC) is formed has been extended until Dec. 31, 1954.

But allied and German negotiators are still deadlocked over the amount the Bonn government will pay to help maintain allied troops in Germany, they said.

Under an agreement expiring June 30, the Germans pay 600 million marks ($142,800,000) a month in occupation costs. The Germans maintain this is too high.

Allied officials said further talks will be held in an effort to reach an agreement before June 30. The present agreement will continue in effect until a new arrangement is evolved.

Haymes Gets Support

Los Angeles, June 24 (AP)—Dick Haymes crooned happily today after testimony of a former immigration official pictured him as complying with the law before taking that famous trip to Hawaii. The trip, to visit his then sweetheart and present wife, Rita Hayworth, touched off deportation blues for the Argentine-born singer. Richard Cody, a lawyer who formerly headed the service's local border crossing unit, said Haymes was issued a temporary alien registration receipt card in May 1953. Cody said he told Haymes the receipt met the documentary requirements of the law.

Critically injured in the accident and hospitalized were Yvette Saucier, 25; Robert Kirkman, 19; Walter Rodd, 21, and Arthur Embrach, 22, all of Norwich. State police said Kirkman, who was driving, lost control of the vehicle while apparently driving at a high rate of speed along Route 2 here.
